15TH YEAR. NO. 213. EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1900. TWO CENTS

WILL OPEN BALLOT BOXES

Contest at Lisbon Over the Vote of Washington Township Heard by Canvassing Board.

COUNTY CONVENTION MET

This Morning and Elected Delegates to the State Convention—This City Well Represented.

OFFICIAL RETURNS ALL IN.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—The Republican county convention met at 10:30 o'clock this morning in probate court room. State Treasurer I. B. Cameron was chosen chairman and Ed A. King secretary.

This was the first county convention held under the new rule adopted by the county committee in session February 9 last, that hereafter the county convention should be composed of delegates chosen for that purpose, instead of the central committeemen exclusively as heretofore.

There was a large attendance of political leaders from all parts of the county, East Liverpool and Salem being represented by large delegations. After attending to routine business the convention adjourned for dinner. Everything was harmonious and amiable at the morning session, but there were rumors of a scrap for afternoon.

The dispute arose over the Washington township vote, which, as reported in the News Review yesterday afternoon, was alleged by the Baker people to have been tampered with, more votes being recorded than were on the poll books. The Washington delegations brought the ballot boxes with them, so as to be prepared for a possible demand for a recount.

Four delegates are involved. These are now credited to Tayler. If, by any chance they should be secured by Baker, it would make the total vote: Tayler 52½, Baker 28½.

At the morning session the following committee was appointed upon resolutions: E. F. Moore, of the Buckeye State; J. H. Simms, of the East Liverpool Tribune, and Harry Palmer, of the News Review.

State Delegates.

The following delegates were elected from East Liverpool to represent Columbiana county at the Republican state convention to be held at Columbus April 24 and 25:

Delegates.

J. H. Simms,
John J. Purinton,
John Powell,
E. W. Hill.

Alternates.

A. W. Thomas,
S. T. Herbert,
H. N. Harker,
George E. Davidson.

The other delegates were: At large, Hon. R. W. Tayler and Hon. Samuel Buell; Hanover township, S. S. Winsper; Salem township, John B. Morgan; Center township, Frank B. McCord and J. G. Moore; Washington township, W. R. Dutton; Unity township, S. S. Stewart; Perry township, G. V. Sharp and A. R. Dow; Fairfield township, J. J. Fetzer; Wellsville, J. F. McQueen.

The other alternates were: Hanover, J. J. Brown; Salem, H. D. Weaver; Center, I. B. Cameron and S. D. Noragon; Washington, R. M. Hull; Unity, D. C. McCurdy; Perry, D. A. Simpson and Paul Lowry; Fairfield, George Shingler; Wellsville, F. L. Wells.

The canvassing board elected I. B. Cameron chairman and C. C. Connell secretary. When Washington township was reached R. M. Hull announced that there was a contest, and he and W. R. Dutton were appointed a committee to bring in the ballot boxes. The contest is based on two charges: First, that more ballots were counted than there are names on the tally sheets; second, that votes cast for candidates were tallied to other candidates.

The matter was finally referred to a committee, consisting of Judge Moore, Ross Firestone and C. C. Connell, who will open the ballot boxes and report to the central executive committee.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Situation As Reviewed By Youngstown Papers and Alliance Democrats.

Youngstown Vindicator.

If Baker can get 40 or 50 out of Stark, he'll make it dead easy for a Mahoning county man to pocket the prize package. If not, nit. At the present time, Tayler is it.

Youngstown Telegram.

In Mahoning county, which has 62 delegates, are to be found many supporters of both candidates, and again not a few favor the idea of placing in the field a Mahoning county man whom it is believed could be nominated.

Alliance Leader.

The seat of war has been changed to this county this year, and the battle will be waged with unabated fury. Mr. Baker has no reason to feel discouraged so far in his canvass, as he returned from his opponent's own county with a good share of its votes. In Stark and Mahoning counties the contest will be nearer equal.

OLD CEMETERY.

Council May Be Induced to Take Some Action Toward Fixing It Up This Year.

It is stated that council will endeavor to take some action toward doing away with the old cemetery. The residents of the lower end of Fifth street would be more than pleased if council would look after the matter and see if they could not make the place more inviting than it is at present. The council appointed a committee several years ago to look after the place and see what action could be taken, but the committee handed in two or three reports and then grew tired and quit.

Legislative Adjournment.

Columbus, March 17.—(Special.)—There is talk again of holding annual sessions of the legislature. A resolution to that end will be offered this week. A number of Republicans and Democrats are in favor of returning to the old order of things.

It is expected now that the legislature will not adjourn before the 23d. It has been said during the week that business might be cleared out so as to adjourn on the 16th. However, it is not likely that the overworked statesmen will return to their homes before the first named day.

Gone to Phoenix.

Philip Morley left today for Phoenix, Ariz., where he will visit his family, who have spent the winter in that city.

INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Grand Jury's Return Against John Purvis and Joe Willis For Cumming's Death.

JOHNSON NOT INDICTED

For the Murder of Mrs. Mary Kinders, Owing to the Lack of Evidence.

OTHER CASES AT CUMBERLAND.

New Cumberland, March 26.—(Special.)—The grand jury of Hancock county met at New Cumberland, but only a few cases were acted upon. The Johnson murder case was the first upon which action was taken. Three witnesses, Edwin Snyder, George McNally and John Rice, were examined. The foreigners interested in the case could not be located, and, as the evidence heard was not of a convicting character, no indictment was found.

The witnesses in the Cummings murder case were examined, and a verdict of manslaughter was found against John Purvis and Joe Willis. The county will offer a reward of $100 for the capture of Willis.

The witnesses examined in this case were the same who appeared before the coroner's jury last Wednesday morning.

The case of William Davis, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was returned to the court of Justice Johnson for disposal. Johnson has set the hearing for Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Some one made an affidavit against a Grant district storekeeper for selling "rikk," a drink that was supposed to be intoxicating. No action was taken and the matter was referred to Justice Johnson for investigation.

The grand jury adjourned in the afternoon until the first Monday in June.

ROCHESTER.

Will Use None But Beaver County Ball Players This Year.

Local ball players will not get a chance on the Rochester team this year. The club will be located at Junction Park this season, and have now signed the strongest players in the valley. Infielders: R. Weakley, H. Heintz, C. Harvey, J. Darragh and E. P. Kuhn, captain; outfielders, A. Pearson, P. Rising and J. Hughes; pitcher, W. W. Coleman; catcher, L. Shotwell, all Beaver county boys with the exception of Mr. Coleman. The opening game will be played on Saturday, May 5, 1900.

Attending the Convention.

The following persons left at 8 o'clock this morning for Lisbon, where they attended the Republican convention: J. N. Hanley, S. T. Herbert, A. J. Johnson, J. W. Irwin, John Powell, D. A. Grim and E. W. Hill. They will return to the city this evening.

April Weather.

Foster, the weather prophet, predicts warm weather for the first week of April with heavy rains. Dangerous storms are not expected.

HAD TO WALK.

VERY SHARP AND OTHER SALEM POLITICIANS

Dumped Out Two Miles North of Lisbon Because of a Freight Wreck.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—Last evening the local freight was wrecked at the cement works, two and a half miles north of town. A piece of chain in some manner became fastened in the switch. The small wheels passed through all right, but the flange of the driving wheel was caught, throwing the engine off the track, upsetting the tender and a box car and derailing a coach. The passenger train due here at 6 o'clock could not get past the wreck, and the passengers, including Very Sharp, "Reddy" Turner, Sam Buell, J. R. Coburn and other Salem politicians on their way to the county convention, were compelled to get out and walk to town. The wreck crew came over from Youngstown last night and the line was cleared by this morning.

NEW IDEA

In Language Study in the Lower Rooms of Public Schools.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman says a new idea in language work has been inaugurated in the lower rooms in the public schools, and the indications are that it will prove a popular study. The scholars are given a subject from which they are asked to write a composition touching upon every detail of the subject. Last week the subject was the sheep. A picture of the animal was pasted at the top of the paper, which was surrounded by specimens of textures from wool.

COMMENCEMENT.

Fourteen Scholars Will Graduate From High School This Year.

The commencement exercises of the graduating class of the high school will be held in the opera house Friday evening, June 1. Superintendent R. E. Rayman said this morning that while the board had not officially decided upon the date, it was customary to hold the exercises on the night of the last day of school. There are 14 in the graduating class.

NOT YET READY.

Macrum's Evidence Will Be Taken Some Time During the Present Week.

Washington, March 27.—(Special.)—Ex-Consul Macrum called on Chairman Hitt of the house committee on foreign affairs yesterday afternoon and signified his readiness to be heard in connection with his services at Pretoria. It was arranged that Mr. Macrum would be notified when the committee is ready to proceed, which will be in a day or so, although no time has been set.

A Good Show.

"Uncle Josh Spruceby," at the Grand last night, drew a large and appreciative audience. The show is one of the best rural comedy dramas ever seen here and the concert orchestra is a feature. The scenery was elegant, and there was not a person who was not well repaid for attending the show. "The Dairy Farm" will be the next attraction at the Grand. It comes next Saturday night.

E. L. HUSBAND SEEKS DIVORCE

John Hulse Says Mary M. Hulse Has Neglected Her Duty as a Wife.

MARRIED IN STEUBENVILLE

Nurse Wants $310 Odd For Care of the Late Mrs Pike—Will Contest.

HOTEL AND MILL INVOLVED.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—John Hulse, of East Liverpool, has filed a suit for a divorce from Mary M. Hulse. They were married in Steubenville in May, 1896, and he says she has neglected her duty as a wife.

Nurse's Big Bill.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—Irene Rudicill has begun suit against J. E. Rogers, of Salem, who is executor of the late Caroline M. Pike. She claims she nursed and cared for the deceased during the closing years of her life and for her services there is $311.07 due her. This claim she has presented to the executor, who has rejected it.

Want Will Interpreted.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—Eva E. Mohr and George G. Cunning, executors of the estate of the late John Cunning, of East Palestine, want the court to place a construction on a claim in the will concerning which they are in the dark. The claim in question disposes of the real and personal property in the estate to his widow during her lifetime and afterward to other heirs. A part of the property referred to is the Book house in East Palestine and the Mineral Valley mill.

ON THE RIVER.

A Rise of Several Feet Is Expected In the Ohio by Tomorrow Evening.

The rain of Sunday night and yesterday was very heavy along the upper valleys, and the Ohio is expected to rise several feet by tomorrow.

There is enough water in the Ohio to ship coal, but shipments are handicapped by the absence of towboats. No coal has been shipped out since Saturday, but it is probable that there will be a tow or two leave today. The marks at the wharf today registered 10 feet and stationary.

Married Last Night.

John Henry Junkins and Mary Ellen Daniels were married Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Jenkins, Ridgeway avenue. The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. C. Taggart and was witnessed by a few intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

Wouldn't This Kill You?

Steubenville Gazette (Dem.)

Judge Taylor, it will be remembered tried the Mrs. Annie George murder case at Canton last year. It is alleged that the McKinley influence was used against him.

WELLSVILLE PRIMARY CONTEST

Supervisors Declare They Had No Jurisdiction and Refused to Interfere.

WELLS STAYS CITY SOLICITOR.

The deputy state supervisors of elections met yesterday afternoon at Wellsville to consider the protest of Charles Boyd against placing the name of Frank Wells on the Republican ticket in Wellsville for city solicitor. Boyd was a candidate at the recent primaries against Wells and was defeated by a few votes. He alleged that fraud in the Fourth ward prevented him from being elected.

All the members of the election board were present, consisting of W. G. Bentley, Salem; J. A. Martin, Lisbon; R. B. Beacom, Wellsville; C. A. Ferguson and James N. Hanley, East Liverpool. The supervisors considered the case for some time and then decided that they had no authority in the matter, as their jurisdiction did not extend beyond certificate of nomination.

The question as to whether the Prohibition party of this city filed the proper certificate with the board was not considered, as there was no protest entered. The ballots have all been printed, and the entire list of Prohibition candidates are printed on them as usual.

THAT ORDINANCE.

It Is Probable the Solicitor's Salary Will Not Be Increased This Year.

The committee appointed to take care of the new solicitor's ordinance increasing his salary have not yet held a meeting, and at the meeting of council to be held Tuesday evening it is probable the ordinance will be handed to the clerk without a report. Chairman Marshall, of the committee, states that he is not in favor of increasing the salary and he don't think there would be any use for the committee to meet. President Peach is also opposed to the measure, and when asked about it replied that he didn't believe in "furnishing experience for lawyers at the city's expense."

A NEW POTTERY.

Plans To Be Drawn Here For One to Be Built at Trenton.

It is quite probable that another pottery will be built in Trenton and from plans that will be made in this city. Last week a Trenton potter wrote to a friend in Wellsville asking that he secure an estimate for a new pottery. Architect Adolph Fritz was consulted relative to the drawing of the plans, and it is likely he will submit an estimate for the new plant to the prospective builders this week. No details are given.

Made It Up.

The boys and girls of the high school who took a half a day last Friday without the teachers' consent remained an hour after school last night to furnish essays as to whether they thought four and one-half days was enough school a week.

COUNCIL.

HAS A BATCH OF BUSINESS TO TRANSACT.

The Meeting Tuesday Evening Will Probably Be a Long Drawn Out Session.

Council will meet Tuesday evening in regular session, and it is likely the session will be lengthy. The auditing committees are to be appointed and the electric franchise of C. A. Smith and others will come up on its third reading. Chairman Cain will make a report on the plumbing inspector's ordinance and the salary of the fire chief will be increased. It is expected the Grim and Whan bills will appear and other miscellaneous business will be transacted.

ONCE MORE.

The John Kountz and E. L. Hughes Hearings Have Been Postponed By Mayor Bough.

John Kountz, accompanied by his attorney, W. B. Hill, called at the mayor's office last night for the purpose of having a hearing on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by Officer White. Hughes, who was also implicated in the trouble, did not put in an appearance. The hearing of Robert Hopkins was set for last night, so the Kountz-Hughes hearing was postponed until Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock.

TYPHOID FEVER.

Two New Cases Were Reported to the Health Department Yesterday Afternoon.

Two new cases of typhoid fever were reported to the health department yesterday afternoon and were promptly inspected by Sanitary Officer Burgess. The parties who are ill are Theodore Poe, Robinson street, and David Chambers, Avondale street. These are the first cases reported to the department since March 15.

THE TRUSTEES.

Expect To Get Rid of All the Sick People on Their Hands the Last of This Week.

Business at the office of the township trustees is on the decrease, and if it were not for the four or five families they are looking after their expenses would be light. They expect to get rid of all the families by the last of this week, as the parties who have been ill have almost entirely recovered.

A DEAD DOG.

Sanitary Officer Burgess Found One Yesterday Afternoon in Drury Lane.

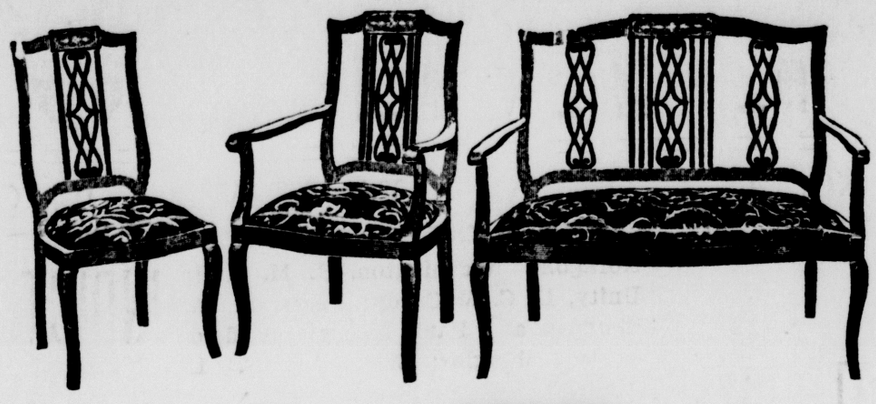

Sanitary Officer Burgess yesterday afternoon found a large black dog in Drury lane, but he couldn't find an owner for it. The officer buried the dog, but says that if any one wishes to claim it he will resurrect it for 25 cents, or the cost price of the burial.

RUBBER HOSE.

CAUSED A BLAZE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

At the Home of Mrs. Vincent, Third Street—The Department Called.

The fire department was called to the home of Mrs. Vincent, Third street, yesterday afternoon to extinguish a small blaze in the bath room. In the bath room is a small gas stove and the gas used in it comes from a jet to which a rubber hose is attached. Yesterday afternoon the hose came loose and caught fire. The hose slowly burned until there was nothing left of it, and then the jet caught and ignited the ceiling. Mrs. Vincent appeared in time to prevent a disastrous blaze. She knocked some of the plaster down and discovered that the lathes were blazing. They were extinguished with a bucket of water. When the department arrived an extinguisher was used to prevent all chance of the fire breaking out again.

IMPROVEMENTS.

First U. P. Church Will Undergo Extensive Repairs, And Work Has Started.

The insurance adjusters have not been here to adjust the loss at the First U. P. church, but the trustees have received permission to go ahead and make repairs to the church. The downstairs room will be newly papered and recarpeted, while the auditorium will be frescoed. The interior of the church will present a handsome appearance when the work is completed.

TO NEW YORK.

Winnie Mercer Left Today To Report For Duty With the Giants.

Winnie Mercer left today for New York to report for duty with the New York base ball team. Mercer has taken good care of himself this winter, and with a little practice will be in splendid shape for the season's work. He has no idea what the Giants intend doing with him, and don't know whether he will play third base this year or will be placed in the pitcher's box.

A Teacher Ill.

Miss Edna Cook, a teacher at the Grant street building, was ill yesterday. Her place was filled by Miss Bertha Dunlap.

OFFICER BEING COURTMARTIALED

He Insulted Archbishop Chapelle While Enroute to Manila.

NEW YORK, March 27.—In a letter written by an army officer in Manila to his parents, in Brooklyn, he says that Major Kirkman, United States volunteers, captain of regulars, has been courtmartialed for an alleged insult to Archbishop Chapelle, papal ablegate to the Philippines, during a voyage from San Francisco to Manila. Kirkman was in command of the transport.

The major hung his blanket to be aired so that it covered the window of the archbishop's state room. Archbishop Chapelle sent a complaint that he was unable to air his state room. Major Kirkman replied that he did not care whether the state room was aired or not. The archbishop endured the insult throughout the trip. On reaching Manila, a staff officer went on board and invited the archbishop to proceed by launch to the city. Kirkman had not been aware that the duties of the archbishop were offical.

Archbishop Chapelle was asked if he would report the insult. He replied: "Yes; not that it will benefit me, but that it will prevent like insults to those coming after me."

If convicted Kirkman will be dismissed from the army.

Chicago Grain, Provisions and Pork.

CHICAGO, March 27.—The corn market was broad and aggressive Monday, leading the other markets, closing strong, May ⅛ at ½ over Saturday. Wet weather and small stocks were factors. From the top the market yielded on the heavy receipts. Wheat was influenced considerably by corn and provisions, but succumbed finally to the bearish statistics, closing weak, May ⅛ down. The provision market went soaring because a large demand met with very scant offerings, closing from 5 cents higher for May lard to 20 cents up for May pork. May oats at close were unchanged.

Lives Lost at Mining.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 27.—The annual report of James Roderick, chief of the state bureau of mines and mining, contains a chapter dealing with mine accidents and their causes. In the 30 years from 1870 to 1899 the report states 9,575 lives were lost in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania. He said the greatest neglect was on the part of the employes.

Some Machinists Back at Work.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Over a hundred striking machinists formerly employed by the Siemens and Halske company, returned to work for that corporation, their demands for a nine-hour working day and a minimum scale of wages having been granted. The firm, however, refused to recognize the walking delegate, and negotiations were conducted by a shop committee, which will hereafter negotiate with the management.

Lieutenant Gillmore Looking Well.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Lieutenant Commander James C. Gillmore reported at the navy department to take his examination for promotion to lieutenant commander. The officer is looking remarkably well. It is probable that the officer will be detailed for duty in Washington.

Funeral of Colonel Wallace.

HELENA, Mont., March 26.—The funeral of the late Colonel Robert Bruin Wallace, was an imposing affair. Local military organizations were reinforced by members of the Montana volunteer regiment and United States regulars.

It was an Irish lawyer who in speaking of the death of a colleague said, "He left a brilliant future behind him."

HOPKINS HELD IN $500 BAIL

On a Charge of Shooting Michael Stillwell With Intent to Kill.

UNDER INFLUENCE OF DRINK

He Flourished a Gun and Threatened to Make the Duby Place "Smoke."

PUT UP A BAD MAN BLUFF.

Robert Hopkins had a hearing Monday night before the mayor on a charge of shooting with intent to kill and was bound over to court in the sum of $500.

The witnesses in the case were Michael Stillwell, Clarence Harley, Christian Sauerheisen, William Hays, John Michaels, Dr. W. J. Taylor, John Bailey, John McDonald, Patrick Wood and Willis Craig. The witnesses were all for the state, and the defendant did not make a statement.

The testimony showed that Hopkins was under the influence of liquor when he did the shooting, and that he had two or three beers in the saloon when Michaels refused him the drink, which caused the trouble. He remarked that if he didn't get a drink he would make the place smoke and then fired the shot which hit Stillwell in the foot. After he did the shooting he went up Washington street to the first alley, thence to Market street, then to the Diamond and from there to the ice plant, where he was captured. The testimony went to show that Hopkins had flourished the gun on several occasions and seemed to have an idea that he was a bad man.

Michael Stillwell, who was shot in the foot, is not badly injured and is able to be out.

AFRO-AMERICANS.

Of the Eighteenth Congressional District Form an Organization.

Youngstown, March 27.—(Special.)—Representatives of the Afro-Americans throughout the Eighteenth congressional district, which is composed of Mahoning, Stark and Columbiana counties, held a convention here and adopted resolutions favoring the indorsement of the Republican candidate most favorable to their race.

It is proposed to find out the numerical strength of the colored vote in this district and then bring every colored voter into the one solid organization, whose sole and only aim will be the protection and advancement of the colored people, both north and south. Felix Williams has charge of the Columbiana county organization.

WOODY ORR.

Was Captured By the Police Monday Afternoon And Fined $9.60 by Mayor Bough.

Woody Orr filled up with bad booze Monday afternoon and was drunk when Grim found him on Sixth street. He was told to go home, but he didn't do it and the officer run him in. The mayor fined him $9.60 this morning. Woody is one of the gang that loaf at the corner of Sixth and West Market streets and make life miserable for pedestrians.

Samuel Dixon, of St. George street, is ill with grip.

The East End brick factory resumed operations yesterday morning, but work had to be stopped on account of a leak in the boiler. Necessary repairs were made yesterday afternoon and operations were commenced again this morning.

The F. F. F. F. club will meet this evening at the home of Miss Myrtle Andrews, on Pennsylvania avenue, Helana. An interesting program has been prepared.

William Mushenheim, of Mulberry street, is arranging to move his family to Alum Cliff place.

The attendance at the special service held at the Second Methodist Episcopal church last evening was large and the meeting was interesting indeed.

Fear.

The uncertain creates alarm and often leads to the use of unwise methods for relief. Such fears confuse the mind, unnerve the arm, weaken the will and darken the understanding.

Our fears magnify our enemies and minify our friends, producing forbodings that foretell disaster, for these, indulged in, defeat our wisest and best laid plans.

In our distress our tears blind us to all that would prove helpful in these moments of unrest, our sorrows are multiplied, our griefs augmented, and disappointment is our doom.—Philadelphia Methodist.

A man who has never learned to write his own name is not so likely to get into trouble in this world as the one who has learned to write another man's.

VESRSATILE COSTELLO.

It Is Questioned at the Legislative Bribery Trial, In Harrisburg—Habeas Corpus Decision Today.

HARRISBURG, March 27.—Michael J. Costello, of Philadelphia, was a witness at the session of the trial of ex-Senator John J. Coyle, of Philadelphia, charged with offering $500 to Representative John Engler, of Lycoming county, to vote for the McCarrell jury bill at the last session of the legislature.

Before Costello went on the stand the habeas corpus proceedings for the release from custody of Deputy Sheriff Miller of Lycoming, was continued until today and his bail of $1,000 was renewed. Costello is under indictment at Williamsport for making an alleged offer of $500 to Engler at his home in Lycoming county in February, 1899, and will be taken there by Miller for a preliminary hearing as soon as he is discharged by the Dauphin county court.

Costello was asked by Mr. Bergner, private counsel for the house prosecuting committee, if he had visited Engler's home and offered him $500 to vote for the bill and the witness answered in the negative. Mr. Engler was then called by the defense and testified that he was accused and arrested for perjury in this matter; that he had given bail and that he had never been given a preliminary hearing. He denied that he had testified before the legislative investigating committee against Coyle for the purpose of securing the rewards or a portion of them offered by the Business Men't League.

Mr. Bergner offered a record from the Lycoming county court showing that Costello was under indictment there for bribery and corrupt solicitation for the purpose of discrediting him as a witness against Engler.

Representative Miller, of Northamton county, testified that Coyle told him that if the witness and his colleagues would vote for the McCarrell bill he would get a petition from the citizens of that county endorsing their action. Representative Criste, of Northumberland county, testified that Coyle came to his seat in the house last February and said to the witness: "Vote for reconsideration of the McCarrell bill and leave the rest to me."

Citizens of Williamsport swore that Costello's reputation was very bad, and that they would not believe him under oath.

Harry A. Markey, of Philadelshia, counsel for the Business Men's Republican League, testified as to the rewards offered by that organization for the arrest and conviction of alleged bribers and that Engler had never asked for or received a portion of the reward. Frank Stutsman, Charles Duggan and a large number of other citizens of Williamsport testified that Costello's reputation was good and that he wrs a man of his word.

MISS HELEN GOULD HIRES ARMY CHAPLAINS.

A Number Serving in the Philippines, to Whom She Pays Good Salaries.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—A visitor at the white house, referring to the lack of chaplains with the volunteer regiments in the Philippines and elsewhere, says that Miss Helen Gould, of New York, is maintaining nine or ten chaplains in the army at her own expense.

These men are not officially recognized as chaplains, but as ministers and Y. M. C. A. workers they voluntarily and unofficially do practically the same work. Miss Gould, it is stated, pays each one of these men $90 a month and their expenses in the Philippines.

many coming should be a time of joy and happiness. Fear should be forgotten and pain a stranger.

How often is it so?

It isn't right. Nature never meant it to be so. If the mother were strong and well in a womanly way, as she ought to be, there would be no danger and little pain.

The time of parturition is made comfortable and safe by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a medicine designed by a skilled physician—a specialist in the disorders and diseases of women—for the express and only purpose of putting the whole womanly system into perfect, vigorous health. It works directly on the organs involved in baby's advent and makes them strong, healthful and flexible. Taken during the whole period of gestation it insures the perfect health of both mother and child.

Mrs. Mollie E. Grimes, of Flomaton, Escambia Co., Ala., writes: "I have taken three bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one bottle of your little 'Pellets' and oh, what an appetite they did give me. My baby is now three months old and weighs fifteen pounds and a half. When she was born she was the fattest little baby girl you ever saw. She was the largest one of all my babies and at the birth I had an easier and shorter time than I ever had. I am stouter and healthier than I ever was. I never will be without your medicine. May God bless you and your good medicines."

For obstinate constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most perfect medicine ever devised. They give prompt, comfortable, permanent relief.

Proud of His Labels.

A distangy looking young man boarded a Fourteenth street car at Massachusetts avenue the other night. He was carrying a leather suit case. Pasted all over the suit case were labels indicating much foreign travel—steamer pasters slapped on at Dieppe, Havre, Ostend, Bremen, Cherbourg, Liverpool, Yarmouth, Naples, and railroad labels that bore the names of all lines all the way from Constantinople to St. Petersburg. The young man of distangy appearance put the suit case down between his legs, and all the people in the seats opposite began a fascinated sort of inspection of the labels. A stout man with several of the component parts of a jag who sat next to the young man seemed to regard the labels with particular interest. He stooped over and deciphered them carefully and elaborately, and then he looked up at the owner of the suit case with a leer.

"Been around right smart, hain't you, podner?" he inquired.

The young man regarded him with a smile.

"Never been farther away from Washington than New York in my life," he replied, without any hesitation whatsoever. "I got that whole bunch of labels for half a dollar at a little money exchanging joint, down near the Battery, in New York. Hot scheme, isn't it?"

The frankness of the statement so dazed several of the passengers who overheard it that they got off at the wrong theater.—Washington Post.

A SIMPLE QUESTION.

East Liverpool People Are Requested to Honestly Answer This.

Is not the word of a representative citizen of East Liverpool more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the Union? Read this:

William Terrence, fireman at engine house No. 1 says:—"For some time I was annoyed with symptoms of either weakened or over-excited kidneys. I had noticed more than one recommendation made by people living in East Liverpool about Doan's Kidney Pills, and thinking that if the medicine performed half what it promised it might help me, I bought a box at Larkins' drug store. They cured me."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

GIVE US THE CHANCE.

When will the opportunity come? When can we put it aside from all political issues and prejudices and vote for and against the accursed thing on its merits, if it possesses merit of any kind or character? Of course we refer to the rum traffic, the principal weapon of the devil and his minions in their struggle for the possession of human souls. Let the question be addressed plainly to the masses, in letters of living flame, "For or against the manufacture and sale of intoxicants." All good and sober and true men will vote "against," and hundreds of thousands of besotted men, now powerless in the grasp of the demon, will, as their last chance for salvation, do the same thing. The only true method of destroying the accursed traffic is to pluck the upas tree up by the roots. God speed the day.

OFFICIAL RETURNS

THE ENTIRE TICKET.

Republicans of East Liverpool will stand by the ticket all the way through. There are rumors of disaffection on the part of some men who failed to be nominated at the primary and who threaten to get even at the polls next Monday. Very, very poor politics, gentlemen, and you will do well to think better of it, as your course and conduct will be marked by men who are wide awake. Accept defeat in a manly and thoroughbred manner; pull off your coat and work like a Trojan for your late rival and fellow Republican, and the good things in the organization will come your way in due time. The Second ward needs careful attention. O. D. Nice is a good citizen and will make a good councilman. See to it that he gets the full vote. Be warned in time. There will be a determined and sustained effort, backed by money and influence, to elect the Democratic nominee, Edward Cook. Make it your individual business to see that Cook is defeated. Vote for Nice yourself, and do everything honorable and honest in your effort to have your neighbor do the same. There have been rumors that M'Lane will be battled against in the Fourth ward by the defeated candidate, Mr. Ashbaugh. We cannot believe anything of the kind. Ashbaugh is too good a Republican and too much of a man to indulge in such foolishness. He has been honored by Republicans for years in his ward, and he will not attempt political suicide. If we know Mr. Ashbaugh, he will pull off his coat and do yeoman service for M'Lane. There has also been talk that a certain element in the party will attempt to down Heddleston in the First ward. Make it your business to see that he has the full vote of the party. If men care nothing for the party and its principles, but merely make use of the party for their own selfish interests, mark them and read them out of the circle. They are serpents at your fireside, and will sting you in an unguarded moment. Make sure of success, Republicans of East Liverpool, by voting the ticket in its entirety. Vote straight.

THE HOSPITAL ASSOCIATION

Committee Appointed to Confer With Contractors About Erection of Building.

NOW HAS $1,500 ON HAND

The Question of Raising More Funds Was Discussed at Last Night's Meeting.

SEVERAL SUGGESTIONS OFFERED

The hospital association met last evening at the Young Men's Christian association parlors for the purpose of discussing plans for the erection of a hospital.

The association now has about $1,500 on hand, and a committee, composed of Mrs. Charles Hanley, Mrs. M. E. Calhoun and Mrs. John Agner, were appointed to confer with the different contractors and see what kind of a building they could have erected for a sum not to exceed $2,000. The association will meet again next Monday evening, when the committee will make a report and some definite action will be taken. The question of raising more funds was also discussed and a suggestion made that a portion of the tract of land recently purchased by the association be laid out in lots and sold. No action was taken on the matter.

ANTS ACT AS STRATEGISTS.

Colonies of the Insects Transact Business With Military Precision.

From a military standpoint the methods employed by ants to provide food for an ant colony are almost perfect. Their foraging parties are faultless, both in planning and execution, and are almost uniformly successful. A resident of this city who visited South Africa gives this description of a foray of an army of ants.

The army, which he estimates to have numbered about 15,000 ants, started from its home in the mud walls of a hut and marched in the direction of a small mound of fresh earth but a few yards distant. The head of the column halted on reaching the foot of the mound and waited for the rest of the force to arrive at the place of operations, which evidently was to be the mound of fresh earth. When the remainder had arrived and halted so that the entire army was assembled, a number of ants detached themselves from the main body and began to ascend to the top of the mound, while the others began moving so as to encircle the base of the mound.

Soon a number from the detachment which had ascended the mound, evidently the attacking party, entered the loose earth and speedily returned each bearing a cricket or a young grasshopper, dead, which he deposited upon the ground and then returned for a fresh load. Those who had remained on the outside of the mound took up the crickets and grasshoppers as they were brought out and bore them down to the base of the hill, returning for a fresh load. Soon the contents of the mound seemed to be exhausted, and then the whole force returned home each carrying his burden of food for the community.

Here, then, was the regular foray planned and executed with military precision, the country surveyed, the depot of provisions known accurately before the march was made and at the mound prudential division of labor and care taken that none of the victims should escape.—New York Herald.

Fear Evil Spirits.

Evil spirits are held in great dread by the Chinese, who believe them to bear special ill will to the eldest son of the family and to delight in playing unkind tricks upon him. To prevent this the eldest son in one family was named "Sixth Little Sister," the child's parents evidently being under the impression that evil spirits could be deceived as to the sex of the little one.

What Tesla Selected.

Thomas Edison used to have Nikola Tesla working for him in his studio near Paris. Tesla came to him one day asking for work, and Edison, who needed help, referred him to the foreman, named Fulton. The latter took the young foreigner on condition that he would work. This Tesla did. For three days and nights he never closed his eyes. At the end of the first fortnight he had not had 48 hours' sleep all together, and Fulton, the foreman, made him take a rest. He also said to the young man that on account of the strain they had both been under they had better have a good meal.

Accordingly the foreman and the student went to a well known cafe on one of the boulevards and got one of the biggest and thickest steaks possible. It was a whopper and seemed to be overwhelming for two. Besides, the garnishings were liberal, and there was enough good wine. Between them, however, they managed to make everything disappear, and then Fulton turning to Tesla, asked him if there was anything else he would like. "You're out with me, you know, and whatever you want just order it."

Tesla looked vaguely around for a minute, as if making up his mind, and then hesitatingly said, "Mr. Fulton, if you don't mind I would like another steak."—San Francisco Argonaut.

His Mistake as to American Girls.

A Louisville girl who was recently in Germany met a young English officer who was in the same city, and, in fact, in the same house with her for two months, studying German for his promotion. Like most Europeans, he had the usual absurd ideas about the girls of this country, who, in the minds of the untraveled foreigner, are rather hoyden creatures, who smoke and have other masculine traits.

After dinner one day in the early acquaintanceship of the couple the officer offered the Louisville girl a cigarette, and upon her refusing it he said:

"Why, I thought all the girls in the United States smoked."

"So we do," replied the girl, "but never cigarettes, only pipes. If you will get that pipe off the mantelpiece in the next room I shall be charmed to smoke with you."

Not suspecting the joke she was playing on him, the officer brought the pipe and filled it, and it was not until he saw the wry faces his friend made in attempting to carry out the joke that he appreciated the situation. He was continually telling the American in a tone of surprise that she was just like the girls at home in England, and her rejoinder was:

"Lieutenant, don't you think a lady is a lady the world over?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

HE DIDN'T KNOW.

A Northern County Township Man Understood the County Went Republican.

Few people outside of a newspaper office know how much time and patience it requires to obtain complete returns of an election. Yesterday the News Review called up a pay station in one of the northern townships for the purpose of getting the returns from that particular township. The party who answered the phone was asked who carried the township for congress, and replied that he "thought the county had gone Republican, but he didn't know just how it stood." He was real sure his township had gone Republican, but didn't know who carried it.

PECULIAR.

SITUATION EXISTS OVER IN EAST PALESTINE.

H. E. Bower Nominated for Mayor of the Village on the Republican Ticket.

East Palestine, March 27—(Special)—The recent litigation between the village authorities and H. E. Bower is recalled by his nomination for mayor on the Republican ticket. Bower was fined by Mayor Lyon for taking orders for liquor at his store, just across the village line, and delivering the goods in the village which is local option. He appealed to common pleas, which sustained the lower court, and he then appealed to circuit court, which reversed both. After his legal victory he announced his intention of running for mayor, and to the surprise of the temperance people was nominated. The village council is "dry," so a warm time is expected should Bower be elected.

Litigation Over Land.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—The case of O. H. Bates, executor of Christian K. Betz, vs. James Camp is expected to reach the jury late this afternoon. Christian Betz died in November, 1898, at the home of the defendant, possessed of about 114 acres of land in Salem township. In March, 1896, he leased the farm to Camp for five years at an annual rental of $200. When Betz died the exextor sued to recover rent amounting to $905, which Camp admits that he owes, but asserts that there is a balance due him of $1,052.99. He was to keep the farm and all buildings and fences in repair, for which he was to be allowed credit. He also claims that soon after he took possession under the lease the deceased came to live with him and remained there until his death. He required continual nursing and care, and at the time of Betz's death Camp claims he was justly entitled to $1,957.99.

The secretary of the board was instructed to notify the conference of the acceptance of Will Curfman into the ministry from the Manchester district. Mr. Curfman is now in charge of Nessly chapel, in Hancock county, West Virginia.

HOT SLASH.

A Delicacy That Is Prized by New Orleans Negroes.

"Did you ever hear of an edible known as 'hot slash?'" asked a citizen who always keeps an eye open for life's little oddities. "No? Well, I'm not surprised. I discovered it myself only yesterday through a chance visit to the river front. It was about 11 o'clock in the morning, and I was loafing around the far end of the North eastern fruit wharf waiting for a man, when a strapping big negro rushed up and bawled out: 'Hot slash! Hot slash!'

"I supposed he was addressing himself to me, but before I could think up some graceful and appropriate bit of repartee at least a dozen other strapping darkies came tumbling out from behind a pile of barrels, where a crap game had evidently been in progress, and started on a dead run for a nearby alleyway.

"None of them had asked any questions, and, needless to say, my curiosity was highly excited, so I trailed along in the rear and at the other end of the alley found the whole crowd, with numerous additions, clustered about a small covered wagon from which a mulatto was selling smoking hot loaves of bread at a nickel apiece. As each loaf was called for he split it open and saturated the interior with molasses from a can in the vehicle. That was hot slash. It seemed to be a local substitute for the merchants' lunch, which appears about the same hour in the retail district up town.

"I asked one of the darkies whether it was good, and his reply, while wordless, was extremely eloquent. The lower half of his countenance was buried in a fresh section of hot slash at the moment, and nothing was visible except his eyes, which he rolled upward until they resembled a couple of white celluloid pool balls. Then he closed them, very slowly, like a man in an ecstasy, and at the same time made a gurgling sound in his throat. After that pantomime I was strongly tempted to try a piece of hot slash myself."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Something About These Aristocrats of the Bivalve Family.

A newborn oyster is a tiny fleck of creamy substance, not much larger than the point of a pin. Its advent in countless numbers from the middle of July to the middle of August is to the oysterman of Connecticut, where are located probably the largest seed oyster plants in the world, an event of the utmost interest. Long Island sound has some peculiarity of the water which renders it especially favorable for the raising of the choicest and most widely sought oysters. Not only are here located thousands of oyster plantations, but also immense natural oyster beds. And here and there only is raised the famous Blue Point oyster, the most delicately flavored of its kind and in demand the world over.

The Great South bay, on the outside of Long Island, facing the ocean and extending a distance of 50 miles from the towns of South Bay and Speonk, is the headquarters of the entire production of the genuine Blue Point oysters. The name is derived from a point of land which juts out into the bay here, called Blue point.

A combination of percentage of salt in the water, temperature, depth, condition of bottom, together with some indefinable quality possessed by the latter which is different from any other, gives to them their flavor, which has never yet been equaled by any of the various kinds of oysters raised in America, and the oyster industry is by far the most important fishing industry in the United States. The Blue Points are simply transplanted Norwalk and Bridgeport seed oysters, which are taken from oyster beds and put into the Blue Point beds in Great South bay, where they attain maturity under the most exalted and potent conditions, which graduate them oyster aristocrats, with reputations ready made, possessing the highest oyster valuation and sought for as "Divine Points" in every civilized land.—Hartford Times.

Effective Remedy.

A good story is told of one of the chiefs of the civil service department who had two afflictions—an obliging and easy doorkeeper and a pertinacious office seeker, who was a distant relative of the chief. Scarcely a week passed but the latter called, and the former was much too polite to shut him out.

The chief at last, after one of the usual interviews, resolved to stand the nuisance no longer, so, summoning the doorkeeper when the visitor had departed, he said, "X., do you know what that man comes after?"

"No, sir," replied the functionary.

"Well, then, I may as well tell you He wants your place."

The bore was admitted no more.—Tit-Bits.

A Wonderful Escape.

The greatest height from which any one has accidentally fallen without receiving any injury beyond a shaking was nearly 1,000 feet by an East Indian living in the island of Oghin, who fell over a cliff at that height. His fall was broken at the foot of the precipice by masses of dense vegetation, and he escaped with no more serious injury than a severe shaking. The authenticity of this fall was vouched for by the French writer, H. de Parville.

A man who owns a cocoanut grove in Venezuela is independent, as the fruit continues to ripen all the year round and brings a good price. Each tree averages an annual income of $1.20.

A CONFIDENTIAL CASE.

It Brought Out an Honest Confession About a Stolen Hog.

"It has long been a matter of argument," said the old lawyer, who was in a reminiscent mood, "whether a lawyer should defend a man that he knows to be guilty. There is an argument on both sides, and I do not suppose it will ever be settled to the satisfaction of all.

"A good many years ago I had a case that set me to thinking, and I haven't yet determined what my duty was in the matter. At that time I had a small practice in a little town in the western part of the state. Upon my return to the town one day, after having been away a few days on a matter of business, I was called upon to defend a worthless character who had been arrested for hog stealing.

"At that time every one kept at least one hog to be killed in the fall and salted down for use in the winter. One of my neighbors had butchered a hog a few days before, and the party that I was called upon to defend had been charged with theft of it.

"The case was about to be called when I arrived, and I asked for a little time in which to consult with my client. This was granted, and taking him to one side I said:

"'Now, see here, the best thing that you can do is to make a clean breast of the affair to me, and then I will know just where I stand. Whatever you may confess to me I will treat as sacredly confidential, and I will do my best to clear you.'

"'I didn't steal his hog,' protested the prisoner.

"'Then where did you get the carcass that was found in your possession?' I demanded.

"'From your back porch, boss,' he answered with a grin.

"Then I remembered that just before going away I had left orders to have my hog killed, and I could only gasp. However, I went to work and cleared my client of the charge he was under and took the carcass of my own hog as payment for services rendered, but I had hard work treating what he told me as sacred and confidential."—Detroit Free Press.

Gout In Hens.

Gout has been produced in hens by a Breslau doctor who fed them with meat. He gave the hens nothing but horseflesh without fat and as much water as they liked, with deplorable results to the unfortunate fowls. Having instilled the disease, he then undertook to drive out the uric acid by administering eggshell, which relieved the hens to a certain degree.

OLIVIER ESCAPED FROM FRENCH.

Buller's Patrols Had Sharp Skirmish. Boer Peace Envoys Likely to Come to United States After Visiting Some European.

LONDON, March 27.—Military observers here and even those in close affiliation with the war office are considerably confused as to what is being done for the succor of Mafeking. Some five thousand or six thousand men are engaged with Lord Methuen at Warrenton and Fourteen Streams, and now another column is about leaving Kimberley, if it has not already started, for Griquatown, 106 miles westward. Its ostensible purpose is to drive out the General French is reported from Bloemfontein Sunday as returning from Thaba Nehu without apparently having headed off Commandant Olivier, with his 16 guns and miles of baggage.

Boer horsemen are in contact with the British outposts from Biggarsberg to Warrenton.

Messrs. Wolmarans, Fischer and Wessels, the peace envoys from the federal forces are due at Naples in a few days.

After visiting two or three European capitals, they will go to New York by way of Antwerp. It is understood at the Hague that they are invested with large powers, and are prepared to agree to anything looking to intervention.

The Times prints a statement from Cape Town to the effect that the Boers, after deducting heavy losses are probably unable now to put more than thirty thousand men on the fighting line.

PORTUGAL NEEDS NO LOAN.

Has Cash Ready to Meet Delagoa Bay Award.

LONDON, March 27.—It is learned that Portugal is quite prepared to meet the Delagoa Bay award without borrowing money. Current reports that Great Britain intended lending the Portuguese government in exchange for privileges at Delagoa and Beira are declared to be absolutely incorrect. The British government received no intimation in regard to the award, and has no information of its terms or when they will be announced, though it hopes to receive this information during the current week.

The same condition of affairs in regard to the award prevails at the American embassy, where the securities of the claimants are deposited. On all sides it is said that the long delay in reaching a decision has had the most serious effect upon the principle of arbitration.

DOMINATED BY CRIMINALS.

Governor Steunenberg's Excuse For Opposing Labor Unions in Shoshone County, Idaho.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Governor Steunenberg's cross-examination continued in the Coeur d'Alene investigation before the house committee on military affairs. Representative Sulzer, of New York, inquired how the governor justified the continuance of martial law. The witness said there had been a continuous state of rebellion in the Coeur d'Alene district, and while it did not take on the form of armed resistance there was at all times opposition to the policy of the state authorities. Mr. Sulzer pressed for a specification of names and events in this disorder, but the governor said it was general in character, and specific outbreaks were not likely to occur while the authorities continued to act with firmness.

When asked if he had conferred with the Bunker Hill mine officials and others with a view to breaking up the labor organizations the governor said he had not. He added that in his judgment the lebor organizations in Shoshone county existed in name only, their real policy being "dominated by criminals." When asked to specify the so-called criminals the governor said he did not care to give names.

Governor Steunenberg was asked why he did not resort to the posse comitatus, calling on citizens to aid the sheriff in maintaining order. He said he did not believe the ordinary civil procedure was sufficient to deal with the situation.

Governor Steunenberg said that at present there were three troops of cavalry, about 200 men, in the Coeur d'Alene district. But on Dec. 1 last the troops were withdrawn from guard duty and went into garrison. Troops were no longer at the mines, and there was no stockade.

HULL EXPLAINED ARMY BILL.

In the House Cox and Ridgley Opposed Permanent Increase.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The house entered upon the consideration of the army appropriation bill, but the debate was without exciting incident, being confined to the discussion of army matters. Chairman Hull, in charge of the bill, explained its provisions. Mr. Jett (Ill.) criticised the policy of rushing officers through the high grades of the army just prior to retirement.

Mr. Cox (Tenn.) and Mr. Ridgely (Kan.) opposed generally a permanent increase of the army as prejudicial to the best interests of the country, and Mr. Meyer (La.) discussed the Philippine policy, opposing the retention of the islands.

INCENDIARY PLAY EXCITED FILIPINOS.

Police Restored Order, and Arrested the Author and Manager of Theater.

MANILA, March 27.—During the production of an incendiary play entitled "For Love of Country," presented in the Tagalo language, at the Tagalo theater, the natives, under the influence of repeated references to independence, became disorderly.

Finally, quite carried away by the sight of the rebel flag on the stage, they cried "Vive Filipinos" and "Vive Aguinaldo." The police, who were summoned, restored order and arrested the manager of the theater and the author of the play.

The latter is the proprietor of a Tagalo newspaper which was recently warned to moderate its radical utterances. The American authorities had forbidden the production of the play.

Cardinal Ledchouski has been mentioned as a possible successor of Pope Leo XIII.

THE BREACH YET OPEN

Republican Senators Failed to Agree.

HARMONY MAKERS DISCHARGED.

Definitely Decided to Press Present Porto Rican Bill—Tariffites Agreed to Amend Measure by Admitting United States Goods Into Porto Rico Free.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Republican members of the senate spent some time in caucus in an effort to reach an agreement upon the Porto Rican legislation now pending in the senate. This was apparently, however, without material result, the only accomplishment being a decision to proceed with the general bill as it now stands, without separating the tariff feature, and to discharge the harmony committee from further efforts.

Senator Foraker was instructed by the caucus to press the Porto Rican bill as it now stood, the governmental bill incorporated with the tariff measure, to as speedy a vote as possible. The understanding at the time this instruction was given was that Senator Foraker would offer an amendment to the tariff feature of the bill adding the free list named by the president in an executive order to the exports going from the United States to Porto Rico duty free, but that the 15 per cent of the Dingley law carried in the house upon goods coming from Porto Rico to the United States would be retained.

The vote by which this instruction was given was taken viva voce, no record being made, but it was evident that a substantial majority approved the proposition. Quite a number of senators had left the caucus before this vote was taken, but the position of each senator was understood.

There are a number of senators who will oppose the bill even with the amendment recommended. They are it is stated, Senators Davis, Beveridge, Hoar, Wellington, Mason, Simon, Proctor and Nelson. It is also said that Senators Kyle who, heretofore, has acted with the Republicans, and McCumber, of North Dakota, will not vote for the house bill unamended, but it is believed they will vote for the amended proposition.

Two senators named in the list of eight first given are claimed by friends of the tariff measure as almost sure to vote for the amended bill, leaving six Republicans who will vote finally against the measure.

It was claimed that two or three votes will be secured for the tariff measure from the ranks of the opposition parties in the senate and that in this way a majority will be secured.

While there has been a great deal of discussion among senators as to what the house will do when the amended bill is sent over there, and many conferences between the senators and members of the ways and means committee, the only result has been a decision that the senate must act as seems best under the circumstances, and the bill, if passed, must take its chances in the house.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF SURE.

The War Department Was Ready Before Congress Passed the Aid Measure.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—There will be no delay in the execution of the act of congress appropriating $2,000,000 for the relief of the residents of Porto Rico. The war department had anticipated the passage of the act, and had made arrangements to carry its provisions into effect at once.

A plan of action was agreed upon by General Davis, governor general of Porto Rico, and Secretary Root, while the latter was in Havana recently. It involves employment of native labor on public works in Porto Rico, and the distribution of rations to the sick and destitute who are unable to work. General Davis was given full discretion in the matter, and the sum of $1,000,000 was placed at his disposal.

Wanted to See the President.

The Washington Star says that a big, gawky country lad went to the White House the other day just as the president had gone out for a morning stroll.

"I wants ter see the president," he announced to the first man he met.

"Well, there goes the president now," said the man addressed, pointing to the president's retreating form.

"Dern my time!" the young man ejaculated. "He walks just like any other man," and the fellow struck out so that he could get close enough to see the president well.

TRANS-ATLANTIC TRAVELERS

Furnished Special Attendants by the Pennsylvania System.

The bureau of attendants for trans-Atlantic travelers established in Jersey City and New York City twenty years ago by the Pennsylvania system, has proven a great convenience to persons making European trips and to tourists arriving in America at that port. It will be particularly convenient for visitors to the Paris exposition because the departure docks of most of the Atlantic steamship lines are convenient to the new Jersey City passenger station of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

This bureau consists of experienced agents whose duties are to meet passengers arriving in Jersey City and New York over the Pennsylvania lines and assist them in arranging for trans-Atlantic trips via any of the steamship lines by conducting them to steamships and aiding in preparations for a trip abroad.

These agents will provide cabs operated by the Pennsylvania system and aid passengers with their baggage. They are fully posted on matters pertaining to steamships leaving New York, and arrangements can be made through them for procuring steamship tickets in advance.

They also meet incoming steamships to aid travelers in shaping details for continuing journeys from New York over the Pennsylvania lines by furnishing tickets, arranging for the transfer of baggage from steamship docks after it has been passed by customs inspectors, and having the same checked through to destination. They will reserve sleeping car accommodations and relieve persons of the foregoing details, making themselves useful as attendants and guides free of charge.

Further information on the subject may be obtained by addressing the nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent, or C. L. Kimball, assistant general passenger agent, Cleveland, Ohio.

WILL BAR THE PUBLIC

Judge Fears Excitement at Trial, at Frankfort, Ky.

ATTORNEYS CAME NEAR FIGHTING.

Denny and Campbell Approached Each Other in a Threatening Manner—Spectators Rushed for Doors and Windows. Apologies Followed—Golden a Witness.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 27.—Judge Moore, before whom the trial of Secretary of State Powers is proceeding, will issue an order the effect of which will be to bar everybody from the courtroom except the attorneys, court officers and newspaper men. This action is taken on account of the high tension of public excitement, which resulted in the wild stampede in the courthouse during the Campbell-Denny colloquy.

Colonel Denny, for the defendant, in an argument upon the competency of a question, said:

"It is perfectly lawful for people to come here, and to come armed. I came here several times myself."

He was referring to the crowd that was present at the mass meeting held in the state house yard just prior to Governor Goebel's assassination

Colonel Campbell, for the prosecution, replied that he did not consider it lawful and was surprised to know that Mr. Denny had come here armed. Denny denied having made such a statement, and said that he did not come armed. Campbell insisted that he had made the statement. Both men were very excited and spoke with vehemence, and with arms shaking commenced to advance toward each other. The courtroom was crowded and the audience evidently thought a fight was on and made a mad rush for the doors and windows, people falling over each other in their efforts to get out of the room. Several policemen and deputy sheriffs were crying for order, and Judge Moore was bringing his gavel down with terrific force and urging the people to take their seats. After five or ten minutes of the most exciting scenes witnessed since the assassination quiet was restored.

They finally apologized to each other.

On inspection of the record it was found that Colonel Campbell had misconstrued Colonel Denny's statement.

Governor Brown, in a speech, asked the court to adjourn and give the people time to cool off, stating that it was only by the coolness of several officers and people around him that dozens of people were not killed. He further said that it was not that he feared violence, but he only spoke for the protection of his clients.

County Attorney Polsgrove objected to adjourning, stating that it would be an admission that the court was unable to protect the prisoner and insisted upon resuming the questioning of Golden.

Colonel Denny agreed with Mr. Polsgrove and the court told the attorneys to proceed with the examination.

Ex-Governor Brown interrogated Golden. He said he learned about two weeks ago that he would be arrested if he did not tell what he knew about the assassination and that if he did tell the attorneys for the commonwealth would try and save him from prosecution.

Golden said he told Judge Fleming, of Winchester, that he intended to tell all he knew about the affair. While he was in Winchester he said he was stopped by two men, Dr. Foster and William Steele, who grabbed him by the arms and cursed him for exposing the Republican party. Golden replied that he had not exposed the party.

Governor Brown asked him if he had not told the two men that he knew nothing about the affair. Golden said that he might have told them that, as he would have said anything they wanted him to. Governor Brown asked him if he made a habit of saying anything a person desired, to which the witness responded:

"Not when I am on equal terms with them."

HANNA VERY INDIGNANT.

In Senate In Strong Language He Denounces a Story Told About Him.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Senator Foraker, in charge of the Porto Rican bill, announced in the senate that, beginning with today's session he would press the measure to a vote as soon as possible. Senator Hanna, chairman of the Republican national committee, speaking to a question of personal privilege, vigorously denied an interview with a Republican member of the house of representatives whose name was not given, published in a Washington newspaper alleging that the passage of the Porto Rican tariff bill would be in pursuance of a "deal," by which the Republican national committee was to get a big contribution.

Mr. Hanna denounced the statement as a "malicious lie," and hoped it would be investigated. The Alaskan civil code bill was under consideration during the greater part of the session. An amendment was agreed to, fixing a license upon almost every kind of trade and commerce in the district of Alaska, the licenses ranging from $10 to $500 per annum. The measure had not been disposed of at the conclusion of the session.

Assaulted His Wife and Suicided.

Owosso, Mich., March 27.—Charles Scott, a boiler maker employed in the Ann Arbor railroad car shops, broke into the home of his wife, from whom he had been separated, and furiously assaulted Mrs. Scott and her mother with a heavy chisel. He then drew a revolver and shot himself dead. Mrs. Scott is fatally, and her mother, Mrs. Letitia Ferguson, seriously injured.

Herr Von Puttkamer Dead.

BERLIN, March 27.—Herr Von Puttkamer, ex-vice president of the Prussian ministry and brother-in-law of Prince Bismarck, is dead, at Varzin, aged 71 years. He recently resigned as governor of Pomerania.

Voluntary Advance to Miners.

ALTOONA, Pa., March 27.—The Altoona Coal and Coke company, the Henrietta Coal Mining company, and the Frugality Coal and Coke company, all of this city, notified their miners of a voluntary general advance in wages of twenty per cent, to take effect April 1. Five thousand miners will benefit by the advance.

Ex-Governor Stone Dead.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss., March 27.—Hon. J. M. Stone, a former governor of Mississippi, died after a short illness of erysipelas.

Colonists to Have Commissions.

LONDON, March 27.—In the course of a reply to a question on the subject in the house of commons the parliamentary secretary of the war office, Mr. Wyndham, announced that it was proposed to give a total of 275 commissions in the army to the colonies, and 50 to Lord Roberts for distribution to the forces in the field.

Steyn Opposed to Fleeing.

LONDON, March 27.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Morning Post said: "I learn that Mr. Steyn fled against his own judgment, and on the persuasion of Mr. Fischer that his duty to his country required that he should remain uncaptured as long as resistance was possible."

For New Connecting Road.

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—Joseph U. Crawford, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania railroad, completed a partial survey for the Pennsylvania and Buffalo connecting railroad, which is to be built from a point on the Philadelphia and Erie railroad to the northwestern part of this state to Buffalo.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia—Partly cloudy today, probably snow or rain near the lakes. Wednesday fair; fresh westerly winds, becoming variable.

A DAY IN WALL STREET.

London Bought Heavily—B. & O. Common Rose—Bond Market Continued Broad and Active.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The stock market made a remarkable demonstation of strength in the prices of securities and of absorptive power in the face of the enormous liquidation of profits Monday. It was estimated that London bought fully 60,000 shares on balances, principally among the low-priced common stocks with preferred stocks ahead of them. The commission houses had large orders to buy which accumulated over Sunday, and the professionals took advantage of this demand to market their holdings. This, coupled with the weakness of the local traction stocks, Sugar and People's Gas, turned prices back before the end of the first hour, but the buying continued unabated in volume and carried the market upward again. Later in the day, when the buying orders had been executed and realizing developed in the trunk lines, the market went off again. The final rally did not bring prices back to the best, but it made the closing firm.

Baltimore and Ohio common rose an extreme 5¾ and at one time crossed the preferred. There was very heavy realizing in the other trunk lines under cover of the rise in Baltimore and Ohio. Special strength and activity was shown by a number of the low priced southern and southwesterns, the Pacifics, some of the coalers, both anthracite and bituminous.

All departments of the local money market were appreciably easier Monday in spite of the largely increased speculative activity and the resulting demand for funds. In spite of the large buying of stocks for London sterling exchange advanced a fraction, apparently in response to the hardening of money rates in London.

The bond market continued broad and active and higher prices were made for most bonds traded in. Total sales, par value, $4,810,000.

United States 3s, coupons, advanced ½, do registered ¼ and the refunding 2s when issued declined ½ in the bid price.

FREE TRADE BILL FOR PORTO RICO.

Senator Davis Introduces One That Provides for Internal Revenue Features.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Senator Davis, of Minnesota, introduced a substitute for the Porto Ricon bill which provides for free trade between the United States and Porto Rico and extends the internal revenue laws, with amendments, over the island. The act is declared provisional and shall not continue longer than March 1, 1902.

The Wrong Bird.

A certain conjurer once had an experience which was highly comical, though quite disastrous from a professional point of view.

Having produced an egg from a previously empty bag, he announced that he would follow up this trick by bringing from the bag the hen by which the egg had been laid. This little arrangement he had left to his confederate to carry out.

He proceeded to draw the bird from the bag in which it had previously been placed, but what was his consternation on finding that the alleged hen was an old rooster, which strutted about the stage with ruffled feathers and offended dignity and set up as vigorous a crowing as if he had just awakened from his nocturnal slumbers.

The whole audience shrieked with laughter, and the unfortunate conjurer made a "bolt" for his dressing room.

Not Forgotten.

"Did your grandmother remember you in her will?"

"Yes; she had a clause in it instructing the executors to collect all the loans she had made me."

Two Answers.

Not long ago a Boston clergyman received an evening call from an elderly man and woman who expressed a wish to be joined in the bonds of matrimony then and there.

"Have you ever been married before?" asked the clergyman of the man, an honest eyed, weather beaten person of seafaring aspect.

"Never, and never wanted to be before," was the prompt reply.

"And have you ever been married before?" the question came to the woman.

"No, sir," she replied with equal promptness, and with a touch of humor that appealed to the clergyman at once she added, "I never had a chance!"

The marriage ceremony was speedily performed, and the clergyman refused to take any fee, telling the bride with a twinkle in his eye that it had been a privilege to officiate which he would have been sorry to miss.—Youth's Companion.

Not a Bride.

"You say," pursued the chairman of the legislative investigating committee, "that he resorted to no bribery whatever during the campaign, so far as you know?"

"Yes, sir," replied the witness; "that is what I said."

"Did he not circulate several boxes of cigars?"

"Yes, sir, but them cigars wasn't bribes. Here's one of 'em. You can try it."—Chicago Tribune.

In the coaching days it cost from £5 to £6 to go from York to London.

WILL OPEN BALLOT BOXES

Contest at Lisbon Over the Vote of Washington Township Heard by Canvassing Board.

COUNTY CONVENTION MET

This Morning and Elected Delegates to the State Convention—This City Well Represented.

OFFICIAL RETURNS ALL IN.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—The Republican county convention met at 10:30 o'clock this morning in probate court room. State Treasurer I. B. Cameron was chosen chairman and Ed A. King secretary.

This was the first county convention held under the new rule adopted by the county committee in session February 9 last, that hereafter the county convention should be composed of delegates chosen for that purpose, instead of the central committeemen exclusively as heretofore.

There was a large attendance of political leaders from all parts of the county, East Liverpool and Salem being represented by large delegations. After attending to routine business the convention adjourned for dinner. Everything was harmonious and amiable at the morning session, but there were rumors of a scrap for afternoon.

The dispute arose over the Washington township vote, which, as reported in the News Review yesterday afternoon, was alleged by the Baker people to have been tampered with, more votes being recorded than were on the poll books. The Washington delegations brought the ballot boxes with them, so as to be prepared for a possible demand for a recount.

Four delegates are involved. These are now credited to Tayler. If, by any chance they should be secured by Baker, it would make the total vote: Tayler 52½, Baker 28½.

At the morning session the following committee was appointed upon resolutions: E. F. Moore, of the Buckeye State; J. H. Simms, of the East Liverpool Tribune, and Harry Palmer, of the News Review.

State Delegates.

The following delegates were elected from East Liverpool to represent Columbiana county at the Republican state convention to be held at Columbus April 24 and 25:

Delegates.

J. H. Simms,
John J. Purinton,
John Powell,
E. W. Hill.

Alternates.

A. W. Thomas,
S. T. Herbert,
H. N. Harker,
George E. Davidson.

The other delegates were: At large, Hon. R. W. Tayler and Hon. Samuel Buell; Hanover township, S. S. Winsper; Salem township, John B. Morgan; Center township, Frank B. McCord and J. G. Moore; Washington township, W. R. Dutton; Unity township, S. S. Stewart; Perry township, G. V. Sharp and A. R. Dow; Fairfield township, J. J. Fetzer; Wellsville, J. F. McQueen.

The other alternates were: Hanover, J. J. Brown; Salem, H. D. Weaver; Center, I. B. Cameron and S. D. Noragon; Washington, R. M. Hull; Unity, D. C. McCurdy; Perry, D. A. Simpson and Paul Lowry; Fairfield, George Shingler; Wellsville, F. L. Wells.

The canvassing board elected I. B. Cameron chairman and C. C. Connell secretary. When Washington township was reached R. M. Hull announced that there was a contest, and he and W. R. Dutton were appointed a committee to bring in the ballot boxes. The contest is based on two charges: First, that more ballots were counted than there are names on the tally sheets; second, that votes cast for candidates were tallied to other candidates.

The matter was finally referred to a committee, consisting of Judge Moore, Ross Firestone and C. C. Connell, who will open the ballot boxes and report to the central executive committee.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Youngstown Vindicator.

If Baker can get 40 or 50 out of Stark, he'll make it dead easy for a Mahoning county man to pocket the prize package. If not, nit. At the present time, Tayler is it.

Youngstown Telegram.

In Mahoning county, which has 62 delegates, are to be found many supporters of both candidates, and again not a few favor the idea of placing in the field a Mahoning county man whom it is believed could be nominated.

Alliance Leader.

The seat of war has been changed to this county this year, and the battle will be waged with unabated fury. Mr. Baker has no reason to feel discouraged so far in his canvass, as he returned from his opponent's own county with a good share of its votes. In Stark and Mahoning counties the contest will be nearer equal.

OLD CEMETERY.

It is stated that council will endeavor to take some action toward doing away with the old cemetery. The residents of the lower end of Fifth street would be more than pleased if council would look after the matter and see if they could not make the place more inviting than it is at present. The council appointed a committee several years ago to look after the place and see what action could be taken, but the committee handed in two or three reports and then grew tired and quit.

Legislative Adjournment.

Columbus, March 17.—(Special.)—There is talk again of holding annual sessions of the legislature. A resolution to that end will be offered this week. A number of Republicans and Democrats are in favor of returning to the old order of things.

It is expected now that the legislature will not adjourn before the 23d. It has been said during the week that business might be cleared out so as to adjourn on the 16th. However, it is not likely that the overworked statesmen will return to their homes before the first named day.

Gone to Phoenix.

INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Grand Jury's Return Against John Purvis and Joe Willis For Cumming's Death.

JOHNSON NOT INDICTED

For the Murder of Mrs. Mary Kinders, Owing to the Lack of Evidence.

OTHER CASES AT CUMBERLAND.

New Cumberland, March 26.—(Special.)—The grand jury of Hancock county met at New Cumberland, but only a few cases were acted upon. The Johnson murder case was the first upon which action was taken. Three witnesses, Edwin Snyder, George McNally and John Rice, were examined. The foreigners interested in the case could not be located, and, as the evidence heard was not of a convicting character, no indictment was found.

The witnesses in the Cummings murder case were examined, and a verdict of manslaughter was found against John Purvis and Joe Willis. The county will offer a reward of $100 for the capture of Willis.

The witnesses examined in this case were the same who appeared before the coroner's jury last Wednesday morning.

The case of William Davis, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was returned to the court of Justice Johnson for disposal. Johnson has set the hearing for Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Some one made an affidavit against a Grant district storekeeper for selling "rikk," a drink that was supposed to be intoxicating. No action was taken and the matter was referred to Justice Johnson for investigation.

The grand jury adjourned in the afternoon until the first Monday in June.

ROCHESTER.

Local ball players will not get a chance on the Rochester team this year. The club will be located at Junction Park this season, and have now signed the strongest players in the valley. Infielders: R. Weakley, H. Heintz, C. Harvey, J. Darragh and E. P. Kuhn, captain; outfielders, A. Pearson, P. Rising and J. Hughes; pitcher, W. W. Coleman; catcher, L. Shotwell, all Beaver county boys with the exception of Mr. Coleman. The opening game will be played on Saturday, May 5, 1900.

Attending the Convention.

The following persons left at 8 o'clock this morning for Lisbon, where they attended the Republican convention: J. N. Hanley, S. T. Herbert, A. J. Johnson, J. W. Irwin, John Powell, D. A. Grim and E. W. Hill. They will return to the city this evening.

April Weather.

Foster, the weather prophet, predicts warm weather for the first week of April with heavy rains. Dangerous storms are not expected.

HAD TO WALK.

Dumped Out Two Miles North of Lisbon Because of a Freight Wreck.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—Last evening the local freight was wrecked at the cement works, two and a half miles north of town. A piece of chain in some manner became fastened in the switch. The small wheels passed through all right, but the flange of the driving wheel was caught, throwing the engine off the track, upsetting the tender and a box car and derailing a coach. The passenger train due here at 6 o'clock could not get past the wreck, and the passengers, including Very Sharp, "Reddy" Turner, Sam Buell, J. R. Coburn and other Salem politicians on their way to the county convention, were compelled to get out and walk to town. The wreck crew came over from Youngstown last night and the line was cleared by this morning.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman says a new idea in language work has been inaugurated in the lower rooms in the public schools, and the indications are that it will prove a popular study. The scholars are given a subject from which they are asked to write a composition touching upon every detail of the subject. Last week the subject was the sheep. A picture of the animal was pasted at the top of the paper, which was surrounded by specimens of textures from wool.

COMMENCEMENT.

Fourteen Scholars Will Graduate From High School This Year.

The commencement exercises of the graduating class of the high school will be held in the opera house Friday evening, June 1. Superintendent R. E. Rayman said this morning that while the board had not officially decided upon the date, it was customary to hold the exercises on the night of the last day of school. There are 14 in the graduating class.

NOT YET READY.

Macrum's Evidence Will Be Taken Some Time During the Present Week.

Washington, March 27.—(Special.)—Ex-Consul Macrum called on Chairman Hitt of the house committee on foreign affairs yesterday afternoon and signified his readiness to be heard in connection with his services at Pretoria. It was arranged that Mr. Macrum would be notified when the committee is ready to proceed, which will be in a day or so, although no time has been set.

A Good Show.

"Uncle Josh Spruceby," at the Grand last night, drew a large and appreciative audience. The show is one of the best rural comedy dramas ever seen here and the concert orchestra is a feature. The scenery was elegant, and there was not a person who was not well repaid for attending the show. "The Dairy Farm" will be the next attraction at the Grand. It comes next Saturday night.

John Hulse Says Mary M. Hulse Has Neglected Her Duty as a Wife.

Nurse Wants $310 Odd For Care of the Late Mrs Pike—Will Contest.

HOTEL AND MILL INVOLVED.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—John Hulse, of East Liverpool, has filed a suit for a divorce from Mary M. Hulse. They were married in Steubenville in May, 1896, and he says she has neglected her duty as a wife.

Nurse's Big Bill.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—Irene Rudicill has begun suit against J. E. Rogers, of Salem, who is executor of the late Caroline M. Pike. She claims she nursed and cared for the deceased during the closing years of her life and for her services there is $311.07 due her. This claim she has presented to the executor, who has rejected it.

Want Will Interpreted.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—Eva E. Mohr and George G. Cunning, executors of the estate of the late John Cunning, of East Palestine, want the court to place a construction on a claim in the will concerning which they are in the dark. The claim in question disposes of the real and personal property in the estate to his widow during her lifetime and afterward to other heirs. A part of the property referred to is the Book house in East Palestine and the Mineral Valley mill.

ON THE RIVER.

A Rise of Several Feet Is Expected In the Ohio by Tomorrow Evening.

The rain of Sunday night and yesterday was very heavy along the upper valleys, and the Ohio is expected to rise several feet by tomorrow.

There is enough water in the Ohio to ship coal, but shipments are handicapped by the absence of towboats. No coal has been shipped out since Saturday, but it is probable that there will be a tow or two leave today. The marks at the wharf today registered 10 feet and stationary.

Married Last Night.

John Henry Junkins and Mary Ellen Daniels were married Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Jenkins, Ridgeway avenue. The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. C. Taggart and was witnessed by a few intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties.

Contest at Lisbon Over the Vote of Washington Township Heard by Canvassing Board.

COUNTY CONVENTION MET

This Morning and Elected Delegates to the State Convention—This City Well Represented.

OFFICIAL RETURNS ALL IN.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—The Republican county convention met at 10:30 o'clock this morning in probate court room. State Treasurer I. B. Cameron was chosen chairman and Ed A. King secretary.

This was the first county convention held under the new rule adopted by the county committee in session February 9 last, that hereafter the county convention should be composed of delegates chosen for that purpose, instead of the central committeemen exclusively as heretofore.

There was a large attendance of political leaders from all parts of the county, East Liverpool and Salem being represented by large delegations. After attending to routine business the convention adjourned for dinner. Everything was harmonious and amiable at the morning session, but there were rumors of a scrap for afternoon.

The dispute arose over the Washington township vote, which, as reported in the News Review yesterday afternoon, was alleged by the Baker people to have been tampered with, more votes being recorded than were on the poll books. The Washington delegations brought the ballot boxes with them, so as to be prepared for a possible demand for a recount.

Four delegates are involved. These are now credited to Tayler. If, by any chance they should be secured by Baker, it would make the total vote: Tayler 52½, Baker 28½.

At the morning session the following committee was appointed upon resolutions: E. F. Moore, of the Buckeye State; J. H. Simms, of the East Liverpool Tribune, and Harry Palmer, of the News Review.

State Delegates.

The following delegates were elected from East Liverpool to represent Columbiana county at the Republican state convention to be held at Columbus April 24 and 25:

Delegates.

J. H. Simms,
John J. Purinton,
John Powell,
E. W. Hill.

Alternates.

A. W. Thomas,
S. T. Herbert,
H. N. Harker,
George E. Davidson.

The other delegates were: At large, Hon. R. W. Tayler and Hon. Samuel Buell; Hanover township, S. S. Winsper; Salem township, John B. Morgan; Center township, Frank B. McCord and J. G. Moore; Washington township, W. R. Dutton; Unity township, S. S. Stewart; Perry township, G. V. Sharp and A. R. Dow; Fairfield township, J. J. Fetzer; Wellsville, J. F. McQueen.

The other alternates were: Hanover, J. J. Brown; Salem, H. D. Weaver; Center, I. B. Cameron and S. D. Noragon; Washington, R. M. Hull; Unity, D. C. McCurdy; Perry, D. A. Simpson and Paul Lowry; Fairfield, George Shingler; Wellsville, F. L. Wells.

The canvassing board elected I. B. Cameron chairman and C. C. Connell secretary. When Washington township was reached R. M. Hull announced that there was a contest, and he and W. R. Dutton were appointed a committee to bring in the ballot boxes. The contest is based on two charges: First, that more ballots were counted than there are names on the tally sheets; second, that votes cast for candidates were tallied to other candidates.

The matter was finally referred to a committee, consisting of Judge Moore, Ross Firestone and C. C. Connell, who will open the ballot boxes and report to the central executive committee.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Youngstown Vindicator.

If Baker can get 40 or 50 out of Stark, he'll make it dead easy for a Mahoning county man to pocket the prize package. If not, nit. At the present time, Tayler is it.

Youngstown Telegram.

In Mahoning county, which has 62 delegates, are to be found many supporters of both candidates, and again not a few favor the idea of placing in the field a Mahoning county man whom it is believed could be nominated.

Alliance Leader.

The seat of war has been changed to this county this year, and the battle will be waged with unabated fury. Mr. Baker has no reason to feel discouraged so far in his canvass, as he returned from his opponent's own county with a good share of its votes. In Stark and Mahoning counties the contest will be nearer equal.

OLD CEMETERY.

It is stated that council will endeavor to take some action toward doing away with the old cemetery. The residents of the lower end of Fifth street would be more than pleased if council would look after the matter and see if they could not make the place more inviting than it is at present. The council appointed a committee several years ago to look after the place and see what action could be taken, but the committee handed in two or three reports and then grew tired and quit.

Legislative Adjournment.

Columbus, March 17.—(Special.)—There is talk again of holding annual sessions of the legislature. A resolution to that end will be offered this week. A number of Republicans and Democrats are in favor of returning to the old order of things.

It is expected now that the legislature will not adjourn before the 23d. It has been said during the week that business might be cleared out so as to adjourn on the 16th. However, it is not likely that the overworked statesmen will return to their homes before the first named day.

Gone to Phoenix.

INDICTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER

Grand Jury's Return Against John Purvis and Joe Willis For Cumming's Death.

JOHNSON NOT INDICTED

For the Murder of Mrs. Mary Kinders, Owing to the Lack of Evidence.

OTHER CASES AT CUMBERLAND.

New Cumberland, March 26.—(Special.)—The grand jury of Hancock county met at New Cumberland, but only a few cases were acted upon. The Johnson murder case was the first upon which action was taken. Three witnesses, Edwin Snyder, George McNally and John Rice, were examined. The foreigners interested in the case could not be located, and, as the evidence heard was not of a convicting character, no indictment was found.

The witnesses in the Cummings murder case were examined, and a verdict of manslaughter was found against John Purvis and Joe Willis. The county will offer a reward of $100 for the capture of Willis.

The witnesses examined in this case were the same who appeared before the coroner's jury last Wednesday morning.

The case of William Davis, charged with carrying concealed weapons, was returned to the court of Justice Johnson for disposal. Johnson has set the hearing for Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Some one made an affidavit against a Grant district storekeeper for selling "rikk," a drink that was supposed to be intoxicating. No action was taken and the matter was referred to Justice Johnson for investigation.

The grand jury adjourned in the afternoon until the first Monday in June.

ROCHESTER.

Local ball players will not get a chance on the Rochester team this year. The club will be located at Junction Park this season, and have now signed the strongest players in the valley. Infielders: R. Weakley, H. Heintz, C. Harvey, J. Darragh and E. P. Kuhn, captain; outfielders, A. Pearson, P. Rising and J. Hughes; pitcher, W. W. Coleman; catcher, L. Shotwell, all Beaver county boys with the exception of Mr. Coleman. The opening game will be played on Saturday, May 5, 1900.

Attending the Convention.

The following persons left at 8 o'clock this morning for Lisbon, where they attended the Republican convention: J. N. Hanley, S. T. Herbert, A. J. Johnson, J. W. Irwin, John Powell, D. A. Grim and E. W. Hill. They will return to the city this evening.

April Weather.

Foster, the weather prophet, predicts warm weather for the first week of April with heavy rains. Dangerous storms are not expected.

HAD TO WALK.

Dumped Out Two Miles North of Lisbon Because of a Freight Wreck.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—Last evening the local freight was wrecked at the cement works, two and a half miles north of town. A piece of chain in some manner became fastened in the switch. The small wheels passed through all right, but the flange of the driving wheel was caught, throwing the engine off the track, upsetting the tender and a box car and derailing a coach. The passenger train due here at 6 o'clock could not get past the wreck, and the passengers, including Very Sharp, "Reddy" Turner, Sam Buell, J. R. Coburn and other Salem politicians on their way to the county convention, were compelled to get out and walk to town. The wreck crew came over from Youngstown last night and the line was cleared by this morning.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman says a new idea in language work has been inaugurated in the lower rooms in the public schools, and the indications are that it will prove a popular study. The scholars are given a subject from which they are asked to write a composition touching upon every detail of the subject. Last week the subject was the sheep. A picture of the animal was pasted at the top of the paper, which was surrounded by specimens of textures from wool.

COMMENCEMENT.

Fourteen Scholars Will Graduate From High School This Year.

The commencement exercises of the graduating class of the high school will be held in the opera house Friday evening, June 1. Superintendent R. E. Rayman said this morning that while the board had not officially decided upon the date, it was customary to hold the exercises on the night of the last day of school. There are 14 in the graduating class.

NOT YET READY.

Macrum's Evidence Will Be Taken Some Time During the Present Week.

Washington, March 27.—(Special.)—Ex-Consul Macrum called on Chairman Hitt of the house committee on foreign affairs yesterday afternoon and signified his readiness to be heard in connection with his services at Pretoria. It was arranged that Mr. Macrum would be notified when the committee is ready to proceed, which will be in a day or so, although no time has been set.

WELLSVILLE PRIMARY CONTEST

Supervisors Declare They Had No Jurisdiction and Refused to Interfere.

WELLS STAYS CITY SOLICITOR.

The deputy state supervisors of elections met yesterday afternoon at Wellsville to consider the protest of Charles Boyd against placing the name of Frank Wells on the Republican ticket in Wellsville for city solicitor. Boyd was a candidate at the recent primaries against Wells and was defeated by a few votes. He alleged that fraud in the Fourth ward prevented him from being elected.

All the members of the election board were present, consisting of W. G. Bentley, Salem; J. A. Martin, Lisbon; R. B. Beacom, Wellsville; C. A. Ferguson and James N. Hanley, East Liverpool. The supervisors considered the case for some time and then decided that they had no authority in the matter, as their jurisdiction did not extend beyond certificate of nomination.

The question as to whether the Prohibition party of this city filed the proper certificate with the board was not considered, as there was no protest entered. The ballots have all been printed, and the entire list of Prohibition candidates are printed on them as usual.

THAT ORDINANCE.

It Is Probable the Solicitor's Salary Will Not Be Increased This Year.

The committee appointed to take care of the new solicitor's ordinance increasing his salary have not yet held a meeting, and at the meeting of council to be held Tuesday evening it is probable the ordinance will be handed to the clerk without a report. Chairman Marshall, of the committee, states that he is not in favor of increasing the salary and he don't think there would be any use for the committee to meet. President Peach is also opposed to the measure, and when asked about it replied that he didn't believe in "furnishing experience for lawyers at the city's expense."

A NEW POTTERY.

Plans To Be Drawn Here For One to Be Built at Trenton.

It is quite probable that another pottery will be built in Trenton and from plans that will be made in this city. Last week a Trenton potter wrote to a friend in Wellsville asking that he secure an estimate for a new pottery. Architect Adolph Fritz was consulted relative to the drawing of the plans, and it is likely he will submit an estimate for the new plant to the prospective builders this week. No details are given.

The John Kountz and E. L. Hughes Hearings Have Been Postponed By Mayor Bough.

John Kountz, accompanied by his attorney, W. B. Hill, called at the mayor's office last night for the purpose of having a hearing on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by Officer White. Hughes, who was also implicated in the trouble, did not put in an appearance. The hearing of Robert Hopkins was set for last night, so the Kountz-Hughes hearing was postponed until Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock.

TYPHOID FEVER.

Two New Cases Were Reported to the Health Department Yesterday Afternoon.

Two new cases of typhoid fever were reported to the health department yesterday afternoon and were promptly inspected by Sanitary Officer Burgess. The parties who are ill are Theodore Poe, Robinson street, and David Chambers, Avondale street. These are the first cases reported to the department since March 15.

THE TRUSTEES.

Business at the office of the township trustees is on the decrease, and if it were not for the four or five families they are looking after their expenses would be light. They expect to get rid of all the families by the last of this week, as the parties who have been ill have almost entirely recovered.

CAUSED A BLAZE YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

The fire department was called to the home of Mrs. Vincent, Third street, yesterday afternoon to extinguish a small blaze in the bath room. In the bath room is a small gas stove and the gas used in it comes from a jet to which a rubber hose is attached. Yesterday afternoon the hose came loose and caught fire. The hose slowly burned until there was nothing left of it, and then the jet caught and ignited the ceiling. Mrs. Vincent appeared in time to prevent a disastrous blaze. She knocked some of the plaster down and discovered that the lathes were blazing. They were extinguished with a bucket of water. When the department arrived an extinguisher was used to prevent all chance of the fire breaking out again.

He Insulted Archbishop Chapelle While Enroute to Manila.

NEW YORK, March 27.—In a letter written by an army officer in Manila to his parents, in Brooklyn, he says that Major Kirkman, United States volunteers, captain of regulars, has been courtmartialed for an alleged insult to Archbishop Chapelle, papal ablegate to the Philippines, during a voyage from San Francisco to Manila. Kirkman was in command of the transport.

The major hung his blanket to be aired so that it covered the window of the archbishop's state room. Archbishop Chapelle sent a complaint that he was unable to air his state room. Major Kirkman replied that he did not care whether the state room was aired or not. The archbishop endured the insult throughout the trip. On reaching Manila, a staff officer went on board and invited the archbishop to proceed by launch to the city. Kirkman had not been aware that the duties of the archbishop were offical.

Archbishop Chapelle was asked if he would report the insult. He replied: "Yes; not that it will benefit me, but that it will prevent like insults to those coming after me."

If convicted Kirkman will be dismissed from the army.

Chicago Grain, Provisions and Pork.

CHICAGO, March 27.—The corn market was broad and aggressive Monday, leading the other markets, closing strong, May ⅛ at ½ over Saturday. Wet weather and small stocks were factors. From the top the market yielded on the heavy receipts. Wheat was influenced considerably by corn and provisions, but succumbed finally to the bearish statistics, closing weak, May ⅛ down. The provision market went soaring because a large demand met with very scant offerings, closing from 5 cents higher for May lard to 20 cents up for May pork. May oats at close were unchanged.

Lives Lost at Mining.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 27.—The annual report of James Roderick, chief of the state bureau of mines and mining, contains a chapter dealing with mine accidents and their causes. In the 30 years from 1870 to 1899 the report states 9,575 lives were lost in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania. He said the greatest neglect was on the part of the employes.

Some Machinists Back at Work.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Over a hundred striking machinists formerly employed by the Siemens and Halske company, returned to work for that corporation, their demands for a nine-hour working day and a minimum scale of wages having been granted. The firm, however, refused to recognize the walking delegate, and negotiations were conducted by a shop committee, which will hereafter negotiate with the management.

The fire department was called to the home of Mrs. Vincent, Third street, yesterday afternoon to extinguish a small blaze in the bath room. In the bath room is a small gas stove and the gas used in it comes from a jet to which a rubber hose is attached. Yesterday afternoon the hose came loose and caught fire. The hose slowly burned until there was nothing left of it, and then the jet caught and ignited the ceiling. Mrs. Vincent appeared in time to prevent a disastrous blaze. She knocked some of the plaster down and discovered that the lathes were blazing. They were extinguished with a bucket of water. When the department arrived an extinguisher was used to prevent all chance of the fire breaking out again.

IMPROVEMENTS.

First U. P. Church Will Undergo Extensive Repairs, And Work Has Started.

The insurance adjusters have not been here to adjust the loss at the First U. P. church, but the trustees have received permission to go ahead and make repairs to the church. The downstairs room will be newly papered and recarpeted, while the auditorium will be frescoed. The interior of the church will present a handsome appearance when the work is completed.

TO NEW YORK.

Winnie Mercer Left Today To Report For Duty With the Giants.

Winnie Mercer left today for New York to report for duty with the New York base ball team. Mercer has taken good care of himself this winter, and with a little practice will be in splendid shape for the season's work. He has no idea what the Giants intend doing with him, and don't know whether he will play third base this year or will be placed in the pitcher's box.

He Insulted Archbishop Chapelle While Enroute to Manila.

NEW YORK, March 27.—In a letter written by an army officer in Manila to his parents, in Brooklyn, he says that Major Kirkman, United States volunteers, captain of regulars, has been courtmartialed for an alleged insult to Archbishop Chapelle, papal ablegate to the Philippines, during a voyage from San Francisco to Manila. Kirkman was in command of the transport.

The major hung his blanket to be aired so that it covered the window of the archbishop's state room. Archbishop Chapelle sent a complaint that he was unable to air his state room. Major Kirkman replied that he did not care whether the state room was aired or not. The archbishop endured the insult throughout the trip. On reaching Manila, a staff officer went on board and invited the archbishop to proceed by launch to the city. Kirkman had not been aware that the duties of the archbishop were offical.

Archbishop Chapelle was asked if he would report the insult. He replied: "Yes; not that it will benefit me, but that it will prevent like insults to those coming after me."

If convicted Kirkman will be dismissed from the army.

Chicago Grain, Provisions and Pork.

CHICAGO, March 27.—The corn market was broad and aggressive Monday, leading the other markets, closing strong, May ⅛ at ½ over Saturday. Wet weather and small stocks were factors. From the top the market yielded on the heavy receipts. Wheat was influenced considerably by corn and provisions, but succumbed finally to the bearish statistics, closing weak, May ⅛ down. The provision market went soaring because a large demand met with very scant offerings, closing from 5 cents higher for May lard to 20 cents up for May pork. May oats at close were unchanged.

Lives Lost at Mining.

HARRISBURG, Pa., March 27.—The annual report of James Roderick, chief of the state bureau of mines and mining, contains a chapter dealing with mine accidents and their causes. In the 30 years from 1870 to 1899 the report states 9,575 lives were lost in and about the anthracite coal mines of Pennsylvania. He said the greatest neglect was on the part of the employes.

Some Machinists Back at Work.

CHICAGO, March 27.—Over a hundred striking machinists formerly employed by the Siemens and Halske company, returned to work for that corporation, their demands for a nine-hour working day and a minimum scale of wages having been granted. The firm, however, refused to recognize the walking delegate, and negotiations were conducted by a shop committee, which will hereafter negotiate with the management.

On a Charge of Shooting Michael Stillwell With Intent to Kill.

UNDER INFLUENCE OF DRINK

He Flourished a Gun and Threatened to Make the Duby Place "Smoke."

PUT UP A BAD MAN BLUFF.

Robert Hopkins had a hearing Monday night before the mayor on a charge of shooting with intent to kill and was bound over to court in the sum of $500.

The witnesses in the case were Michael Stillwell, Clarence Harley, Christian Sauerheisen, William Hays, John Michaels, Dr. W. J. Taylor, John Bailey, John McDonald, Patrick Wood and Willis Craig. The witnesses were all for the state, and the defendant did not make a statement.

The testimony showed that Hopkins was under the influence of liquor when he did the shooting, and that he had two or three beers in the saloon when Michaels refused him the drink, which caused the trouble. He remarked that if he didn't get a drink he would make the place smoke and then fired the shot which hit Stillwell in the foot. After he did the shooting he went up Washington street to the first alley, thence to Market street, then to the Diamond and from there to the ice plant, where he was captured. The testimony went to show that Hopkins had flourished the gun on several occasions and seemed to have an idea that he was a bad man.

VESRSATILE COSTELLO.

It Is Questioned at the Legislative Bribery Trial, In Harrisburg—Habeas Corpus Decision Today.

HARRISBURG, March 27.—Michael J. Costello, of Philadelphia, was a witness at the session of the trial of ex-Senator John J. Coyle, of Philadelphia, charged with offering $500 to Representative John Engler, of Lycoming county, to vote for the McCarrell jury bill at the last session of the legislature.

Before Costello went on the stand the habeas corpus proceedings for the release from custody of Deputy Sheriff Miller of Lycoming, was continued until today and his bail of $1,000 was renewed. Costello is under indictment at Williamsport for making an alleged offer of $500 to Engler at his home in Lycoming county in February, 1899, and will be taken there by Miller for a preliminary hearing as soon as he is discharged by the Dauphin county court.

Costello was asked by Mr. Bergner, private counsel for the house prosecuting committee, if he had visited Engler's home and offered him $500 to vote for the bill and the witness answered in the negative. Mr. Engler was then called by the defense and testified that he was accused and arrested for perjury in this matter; that he had given bail and that he had never been given a preliminary hearing. He denied that he had testified before the legislative investigating committee against Coyle for the purpose of securing the rewards or a portion of them offered by the Business Men't League.

Mr. Bergner offered a record from the Lycoming county court showing that Costello was under indictment there for bribery and corrupt solicitation for the purpose of discrediting him as a witness against Engler.

Representative Miller, of Northamton county, testified that Coyle told him that if the witness and his colleagues would vote for the McCarrell bill he would get a petition from the citizens of that county endorsing their action. Representative Criste, of Northumberland county, testified that Coyle came to his seat in the house last February and said to the witness: "Vote for reconsideration of the McCarrell bill and leave the rest to me."

Citizens of Williamsport swore that Costello's reputation was very bad, and that they would not believe him under oath.

Harry A. Markey, of Philadelshia, counsel for the Business Men's Republican League, testified as to the rewards offered by that organization for the arrest and conviction of alleged bribers and that Engler had never asked for or received a portion of the reward. Frank Stutsman, Charles Duggan and a large number of other citizens of Williamsport testified that Costello's reputation was good and that he wrs a man of his word.

many's coming should be a time of joy and happiness. Fear should be forgotten and pain a stranger.

It isn't right. Nature never meant it to be so. If the mother were strong and well in a womanly way, as she ought to be, there would be no danger and little pain.

The time of parturition is made comfortable and safe by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a medicine designed by a skilled physician—a specialist in the disorders and diseases of women—for the express and only purpose of putting the whole womanly system into perfect, vigorous health. It works directly on the organs involved in baby's advent and makes them strong, healthful and flexible. Taken during the whole period of gestation it insures the perfect health of both mother and child.

Mrs. Mollie E. Grimes, of Flomaton, Escambia Co., Ala., writes: "I have taken three bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one bottle of your little 'Pellets' and oh, what an appetite they did give me. My baby is now three months old and weighs fifteen pounds and a half. When she was born she was the fattest little baby girl you ever saw. She was the largest one of all my babies and at the birth I had an easier and shorter time than I ever had. I am stouter and healthier than I ever was. I never will be without your medicine. May God bless you and your good medicines."

For obstinate constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most perfect medicine ever devised. They give prompt, comfortable, permanent relief.

Proud of His Labels.

A distangy looking young man boarded a Fourteenth street car at Massachusetts avenue the other night. He was carrying a leather suit case. Pasted all over the suit case were labels indicating much foreign travel—steamer pasters slapped on at Dieppe, Havre, Ostend, Bremen, Cherbourg, Liverpool, Yarmouth, Naples, and railroad labels that bore the names of all lines all the way from Constantinople to St. Petersburg. The young man of distangy appearance put the suit case down between his legs, and all the people in the seats opposite began a fascinated sort of inspection of the labels. A stout man with several of the component parts of a jag who sat next to the young man seemed to regard the labels with particular interest. He stooped over and deciphered them carefully and elaborately, and then he looked up at the owner of the suit case with a leer.

"Been around right smart, hain't you, podner?" he inquired.

The young man regarded him with a smile.

"Never been farther away from Washington than New York in my life," he replied, without any hesitation whatsoever. "I got that whole bunch of labels for half a dollar at a little money exchanging joint, down near the Battery, in New York. Hot scheme, isn't it?"

A SIMPLE QUESTION.

Is not the word of a representative citizen of East Liverpool more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the Union? Read this:

William Terrence, fireman at engine house No. 1 says:—"For some time I was annoyed with symptoms of either weakened or over-excited kidneys. I had noticed more than one recommendation made by people living in East Liverpool about Doan's Kidney Pills, and thinking that if the medicine performed half what it promised it might help me, I bought a box at Larkins' drug store. They cured me."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Frank Stutsman, Charles Duggan and a large number of other citizens of Williamsport testified that Costello's reputation was good and that he wrs a man of his word.

MISS HELEN GOULD HIRES ARMY CHAPLAINS.

A Number Serving in the Philippines, to Whom She Pays Good Salaries.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—A visitor at the white house, referring to the lack of chaplains with the volunteer regiments in the Philippines and elsewhere, says that Miss Helen Gould, of New York, is maintaining nine or ten chaplains in the army at her own expense.

These men are not officially recognized as chaplains, but as ministers and Y. M. C. A. workers they voluntarily and unofficially do practically the same work. Miss Gould, it is stated, pays each one of these men $90 a month and their expenses in the Philippines.

many's coming should be a time of joy and happiness. Fear should be forgotten and pain a stranger.

As the time approaches how often the poor expectant mother is nerve-racked and pain-ridden — fearing and almost suffering death.

It isn't right. Nature never meant it to be so. If the mother were strong and well in a womanly way, as she ought to be, there would be no danger and little pain.

The time of parturition is made comfortable and safe by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a medicine designed by a skilled physician—a specialist in the disorders and diseases of women—for the express and only purpose of putting the whole womanly system into perfect, vigorous health. It works directly on the organs involved in baby's advent and makes them strong, healthful and flexible. Taken during the whole period of gestation it insures the perfect health of both mother and child.

Mrs. Mollie E. Grimes, of Flomaton, Escambia Co., Ala., writes: "I have taken three bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' and one bottle of your little 'Pellets' and oh, what an appetite they did give me. My baby is now three months old and weighs fifteen pounds and a half. When she was born she was the fattest little baby girl you ever saw. She was the largest one of all my babies and at the birth I had an easier and shorter time than I ever had. I am stouter and healthier than I ever was. I never will be without your medicine. May God bless you and your good medicines."

For obstinate constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most perfect medicine ever devised. They give prompt, comfortable, permanent relief.

Proud of His Labels.

A distangy looking young man boarded a Fourteenth street car at Massachusetts avenue the other night. He was carrying a leather suit case. Pasted all over the suit case were labels indicating much foreign travel—steamer pasters slapped on at Dieppe, Havre, Ostend, Bremen, Cherbourg, Liverpool, Yarmouth, Naples, and railroad labels that bore the names of all lines all the way from Constantinople to St. Petersburg. The young man of distangy appearance put the suit case down between his legs, and all the people in the seats opposite began a fascinated sort of inspection of the labels. A stout man with several of the component parts of a jag who sat next to the young man seemed to regard the labels with particular interest. He stooped over and deciphered them carefully and elaborately, and then he looked up at the owner of the suit case with a leer.

"Been around right smart, hain't you, podner?" he inquired.

The young man regarded him with a smile.

"Never been farther away from Washington than New York in my life," he replied, without any hesitation whatsoever. "I got that whole bunch of labels for half a dollar at a little money exchanging joint, down near the Battery, in New York. Hot scheme, isn't it?"

A SIMPLE QUESTION.

Is not the word of a representative citizen of East Liverpool more convincing than the doubtful utterances of people living everywhere else in the Union? Read this:

William Terrence, fireman at engine house No. 1 says:—"For some time I was annoyed with symptoms of either weakened or over-excited kidneys. I had noticed more than one recommendation made by people living in East Liverpool about Doan's Kidney Pills, and thinking that if the medicine performed half what it promised it might help me, I bought a box at Larkins' drug store. They cured me."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

GIVE US THE CHANCE.

When will the opportunity come? When can we put it aside from all political issues and prejudices and vote for and against the accursed thing on its merits, if it possesses merit of any kind or character? Of course we refer to the rum traffic, the principal weapon of the devil and his minions in their struggle for the possession of human souls. Let the question be addressed plainly to the masses, in letters of living flame, "For or against the manufacture and sale of intoxicants." All good and sober and true men will vote "against," and hundreds of thousands of besotted men, now powerless in the grasp of the demon, will, as their last chance for salvation, do the same thing. The only true method of destroying the accursed traffic is to pluck the upas tree up by the roots. God speed the day.

THE ENTIRE TICKET.

Republicans of East Liverpool will stand by the ticket all the way through. There are rumors of disaffection on the part of some men who failed to be nominated at the primary and who threaten to get even at the polls next Monday. Very, very poor politics, gentlemen, and you will do well to think better of it, as your course and conduct will be marked by men who are wide awake. Accept defeat in a manly and thoroughbred manner; pull off your coat and work like a Trojan for your late rival and fellow Republican, and the good things in the organization will come your way in due time. The Second ward needs careful attention. O. D. Nice is a good citizen and will make a good councilman. See to it that he gets the full vote. Be warned in time. There will be a determined and sustained effort, backed by money and influence, to elect the Democratic nominee, Edward Cook. Make it your individual business to see that Cook is defeated. Vote for Nice yourself, and do everything honorable and honest in your effort to have your neighbor do the same. There have been rumors that M'Lane will be battled against in the Fourth ward by the defeated candidate, Mr. Ashbaugh. We cannot believe anything of the kind. Ashbaugh is too good a Republican and too much of a man to indulge in such foolishness. He has been honored by Republicans for years in his ward, and he will not attempt political suicide. If we know Mr. Ashbaugh, he will pull off his coat and do yeoman service for M'Lane. There has also been talk that a certain element in the party will attempt to down Heddleston in the First ward. Make it your business to see that he has the full vote of the party. If men care nothing for the party and its principles, but merely make use of the party for their own selfish interests, mark them and read them out of the circle. They are serpents at your fireside, and will sting you in an unguarded moment. Make sure of success, Republicans of East Liverpool, by voting the ticket in its entirety. Vote straight.

Committee Appointed to Confer With Contractors About Erection of Building.

NOW HAS $1,500 ON HAND

The Question of Raising More Funds Was Discussed at Last Night's Meeting.

The hospital association met last evening at the Young Men's Christian association parlors for the purpose of discussing plans for the erection of a hospital.

The association now has about $1,500 on hand, and a committee, composed of Mrs. Charles Hanley, Mrs. M. E. Calhoun and Mrs. John Agner, were appointed to confer with the different contractors and see what kind of a building they could have erected for a sum not to exceed $2,000. The association will meet again next Monday evening, when the committee will make a report and some definite action will be taken. The question of raising more funds was also discussed and a suggestion made that a portion of the tract of land recently purchased by the association be laid out in lots and sold. No action was taken on the matter.

ANTS ACT AS STRATEGISTS.

Colonies of the Insects Transact Business With Military Precision.

From a military standpoint the methods employed by ants to provide food for an ant colony are almost perfect. Their foraging parties are faultless both in planning and execution, and are almost uniformly successful. A resident of this city who visited South Africa gives this description of a foray of an army of ants.

The army, which he estimates to have numbered about 15,000 ants, started from its home in the mud walls of a hut and marched in the direction of a small mound of fresh earth but a few yards distant. The head of the column halted on reaching the foot of the mound and waited for the rest of the force to arrive at the place of operations, which evidently was to be the mound of fresh earth. When the remainder had arrived and halted so that the entire army was assembled, a number of ants detached themselves from the main body and began to ascend to the top of the mound, while the others began moving so as to encircle the base of the mound.

Soon a number from the detachment which had ascended the mound, evidently the attacking party, entered the loose earth and speedily returned, each bearing a cricket or a young grasshopper, dead, which he deposited upon the ground and then returned for a fresh load. Those who had remained on the outside of the mound took up the crickets and grasshoppers as they were brought out and bore them down to the base of the hill, returning for a fresh load. Soon the contents of the mound seemed to be exhausted, and then the whole force returned home, each carrying his burden of food for the community.

Here, then, was the regular foray planned and executed with military precision, the country surveyed, the depot of provisions known accurately before the march was made and at the mound prudential division of labor and care taken that none of the victims should escape.—New York Herald.

Fear Evil Spirits.

Evil spirits are held in great dread by the Chinese, who believe them to bear special ill will to the eldest son of the family and to delight in playing unkind tricks upon him. To prevent this the eldest son in one family was named "Sixth Little Sister," the child's parents evidently being under the impression that evil spirits could be deceived as to the sex of the little one.

What Tesla Selected.

Thomas Edison used to have Nikola Tesla working for him in his studio near Paris. Tesla came to him one day asking for work, and Edison, who needed help, referred him to the foreman, named Fulton. The latter took the young foreigner on condition that he would work. This Tesla did. For three days and nights he never closed his eyes. At the end of the first fortnight he had not had 48 hours' sleep all together, and Fulton, the foreman, made him take a rest. He also said to the young man that on account of the strain they had both been under they had better have a good meal.

Accordingly the foreman and the student went to a well known cafe on one of the boulevards and got one of the biggest and thickest steaks possible. It was a whopper and seemed to be overwhelming for two. Besides, the garnishings were liberal, and there was enough good wine. Between them, however, they managed to make everything disappear, and then Fulton, turning to Tesla, asked him if there was anything else he would like. "You're out with me, you know, and whatever you want just order it."

Tesla looked vaguely around for a minute, as if making up his mind, and then hesitatingly said, "Mr. Fulton, if you don't mind I would like another steak."—San Francisco Argonaut.

His Mistake as to American Girls.

A Louisville girl who was recently in Germany met a young English officer who was in the same city, and, in fact, in the same house with her for two months, studying German for his promotion. Like most Europeans, he had the usual absurd ideas about the girls of this country, who, in the minds of the untraveled foreigner, are rather hoyden creatures, who smoke and have other masculine traits.

After dinner one day in the early acquaintanceship of the couple the officer offered the Louisville girl a cigarette, and upon her refusing it he said:

"So we do," replied the girl, "but never cigarettes, only pipes. If you will get that pipe off the mantelpiece in the next room I shall be charmed to smoke with you."

Not suspecting the joke she was playing on him, the officer brought the pipe and filled it, and it was not until he saw the wry faces his friend made in attempting to carry out the joke that he appreciated the situation. He was continually telling the American in a tone of surprise that she was just like the girls at home in England, and her rejoinder was:

"Lieutenant, don't you think a lady is a lady the world over?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Among the Poultry.

"Good morning. How do you do this morning?" said the duck, meeting the hen.

"None of your business," replied the hen. "You are no doctor."

"Quack!" squawked the duck angrily.

"That's what I said," cackled the hen.—Detroit Free Press.

ANTS ACT AS STRATEGISTS.

Colonies of the Insects Transact Business With Military Precision.

From a military standpoint the methods employed by ants to provide food for an ant colony are almost perfect. Their foraging parties are faultless both in planning and execution, and are almost uniformly successful. A resident of this city who visited South Africa gives this description of a foray of an army of ants.

The army, which he estimates to have numbered about 15,000 ants, started from its home in the mud walls of a hut and marched in the direction of a small mound of fresh earth but a few yards distant. The head of the column halted on reaching the foot of the mound and waited for the rest of the force to arrive at the place of operations, which evidently was to be the mound of fresh earth. When the remainder had arrived and halted so that the entire army was assembled, a number of ants detached themselves from the main body and began to ascend to the top of the mound, while the others began moving so as to encircle the base of the mound.

Soon a number from the detachment which had ascended the mound, evidently the attacking party, entered the loose earth and speedily returned each bearing a cricket or a young grasshopper, dead, which he deposited upon the ground and then returned for a fresh load. Those who had remained on the outside of the mound took up the crickets and grasshoppers as they were brought out and bore them down to the base of the hill, returning for a fresh load. Soon the contents of the mound seemed to be exhausted, and then the whole force returned home each carrying his burden of food for the community.

Here, then, was the regular foray planned and executed with military precision, the country surveyed, the depot of provisions known accurately before the march was made and at the mound prudential division of labor and care taken that none of the victims should escape.—New York Herald.

Fear Evil Spirits.

Evil spirits are held in great dread by the Chinese, who believe them to bear special ill will to the eldest son of the family and to delight in playing unkind tricks upon him. To prevent this the eldest son in one family was named "Sixth Little Sister," the child's parents evidently being under the impression that evil spirits could be deceived as to the sex of the little one.

What Tesla Selected.

Thomas Edison used to have Nikola Tesla working for him in his studio near Paris. Tesla came to him one day asking for work, and Edison, who needed help, referred him to the foreman, named Fulton. The latter took the young foreigner on condition that he would work. This Tesla did. For three days and nights he never closed his eyes. At the end of the first fortnight he had not had 48 hours' sleep all together, and Fulton, the foreman, made him take a rest. He also said to the young man that on account of the strain they had both been under they had better have a good meal.

Accordingly the foreman and the student went to a well known cafe on one of the boulevards and got one of the biggest and thickest steaks possible. It was a whopper and seemed to be overwhelming for two. Besides, the garnishings were liberal, and there was enough good wine. Between them, however, they managed to make everything disappear, and then Fulton turning to Tesla, asked him if there was anything else he would like. "You're out with me, you know, and whatever you want just order it."

Tesla looked vaguely around for a minute, as if making up his mind, and then hesitatingly said, "Mr. Fulton, if you don't mind I would like another steak."—San Francisco Argonaut.

His Mistake as to American Girls.

A Louisville girl who was recently in Germany met a young English officer who was in the same city, and, in fact, in the same house with her for two months, studying German for his promotion. Like most Europeans, he had the usual absurd ideas about the girls of this country, who, in the minds of the untraveled foreigner, are rather hoyden creatures, who smoke and have other masculine traits.

After dinner one day in the early acquaintanceship of the couple the officer offered the Louisville girl a cigarette, and upon her refusing it he said:

"So we do," replied the girl, "but never cigarettes, only pipes. If you will get that pipe off the mantelpiece in the next room I shall be charmed to smoke with you."

Not suspecting the joke she was playing on him, the officer brought the pipe and filled it, and it was not until he saw the wry faces his friend made in attempting to carry out the joke that he appreciated the situation. He was continually telling the American in a tone of surprise that she was just like the girls at home in England, and her rejoinder was:

"Lieutenant, don't you think a lady is a lady the world over?"—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Among the Poultry.

"Good morning. How do you do this morning?" said the duck, meeting the hen.

"None of your business," replied the hen. "You are no doctor."

"Quack!" squawked the duck angrily.

"That's what I said," cackled the hen.—Detroit Free Press.

The lecturer will come to the city under the auspices of the Women's Christian Temperance union, and will arrive here Thursday, and Thursday evening will deliver his first lecture in the First M. E. church. He will deliver another lecture on Friday afternoon and one Friday night for men only. All the addresses will be made in the First M. E. church. The lectures will be given free.

HE DIDN'T KNOW.

A Northern County Township Man Understood the County Went Republican.

Few people outside of a newspaper office know how much time and patience it requires to obtain complete returns of an election. Yesterday the News Review called up a pay station in one of the northern townships for the purpose of getting the returns from that particular township. The party who answered the phone was asked who carried the township for congress, and replied that he "thought the county had gone Republican, but he didn't know just how it stood." He was real sure his township had gone Republican, but didn't know who carried it.

H. E. Bower Nominated for Mayor of the Village on the Republican Ticket.

East Palestine, March 27—(Special)—The recent litigation between the village authorities and H. E. Bower is recalled by his nomination for mayor on the Republican ticket. Bower was fined by Mayor Lyon for taking orders for liquor at his store, just across the village line, and delivering the goods in the village which is local option. He appealed to common pleas, which sustained the lower court, and he then appealed to circuit court, which reversed both. After his legal victory he announced his intention of running for mayor, and to the surprise of the temperance people was nominated. The village council is "dry," so a warm time is expected should Bower be elected.

Litigation Over Land.

Lisbon, March 27.—(Special.)—The case of O. H. Bates, executor of Christian K. Betz, vs. James Camp is expected to reach the jury late this afternoon. Christian Betz died in November, 1898, at the home of the defendant, possessed of about 114 acres of land in Salem township. In March, 1896, he leased the farm to Camp for five years at an annual rental of $200. When Betz died the exextor sued to recover rent amounting to $905, which Camp admits that he owes, but asserts that there is a balance due him of $1,052.99. He was to keep the farm and all buildings and fences in repair, for which he was to be allowed credit. He also claims that soon after he took possession under the lease the deceased came to live with him and remained there until his death. He required continual nursing and care, and at the time of Betz's death Camp claims he was justly entitled to $1,957.99.

Will Curfman Accepted Into the Ministry From the Manchester District.

At a joint meeting of the official board and trustees of the Methodist Protestant, held in the lecture room of the church Monday night, the repairing of the auditorium of the church was discussed. The officials decided to bring the matter before the congregation Wednesday evening and next Sunday for action.

The secretary of the board was instructed to notify the conference of the acceptance of Will Curfman into the ministry from the Manchester bistrict. Mr. Curfman is now in charge of Nessly chapel, in Hancock county, West Virginia.

HOT SLASH.

A Delicacy That Is Prized by New Orleans Negroes.

"Did you ever hear of an edible known as 'hot slash?'" asked a citizen who always keeps an eye open for life's little oddities. "No? Well, I'm not surprised. I discovered it myself only yesterday through a chance visit to the river front. It was about 11 o'clock in the morning, and I was loafing around the far end of the North eastern fruit wharf waiting for a man, when a strapping big negro rushed up and bawled out: 'Hot slash! Hot slash!'

"I supposed he was addressing himself to me, but before I could think up some graceful and appropriate bit of repartee at least a dozen other strapping darkies came tumbling out from behind a pile of barrels, where a crap game had evidently been in progress, and started on a dead run for a nearby alleyway.

"None of them had asked any questions, and, needless to say, my curiosity was highly excited, so I trailed along in the rear and at the other end of the alley found the whole crowd, with numerous additions, clustered about a small covered wagon from which a mulatto was selling smoking hot loaves of bread at a nickel apiece. As each loaf was called for he split it open and saturated the interior with molasses from a can in the vehicle. That was hot slash. It seemed to be a local substitute for the merchants' lunch, which appears about the same hour in the retail district up town.

"I asked one of the darkies whether it was good, and his reply, while wordless, was extremely eloquent. The lower half of his countenance was buried in a fresh section of hot slash at the moment, and nothing was visible except his eyes, which he rolled upward until they resembled a couple of white celluloid pool balls. Then he closed them, very slowly, like a man in an ecstasy, and at the same time made a gurgling sound in his throat. After that pantomime I was strongly tempted to try a piece of hot slash myself."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

BLUE POINTS.

Something About These Aristocrats of the Bivalve Family.

A newborn oyster is a tiny fleck of creamy substance, not much larger than the point of a pin. Its advent in countless numbers from the middle of July to the middle of August is to the oysterman of Connecticut, where are located probably the largest seed oyster plants in the world, an event of the utmost interest. Long Island sound has some peculiarity of the water which renders it especially favorable for the raising of the choicest and most widely sought oysters. Not only are here located thousands of oyster plantations, but also immense natural oyster beds. And here and there only is raised the famous Blue Point oyster, the most delicately flavored of its kind and in demand the world over.

The Great South bay, on the outside of Long Island, facing the ocean and extending a distance of 50 miles from the towns of South Bay and Speonk, is the headquarters of the entire production of the genuine Blue Point oysters. The name is derived from a point of land which juts out into the bay here, called Blue point.

A combination of percentage of salt in the water, temperature, depth, condition of bottom, together with some indefinable quality possessed by the latter which is different from any other, gives to them their flavor, which has never yet been equaled by any of the various kinds of oysters raised in America, and the oyster industry is by far the most important fishing industry in the United States. A good story is told of one of the chiefs of the civil service department who had two afflictions—an obliging and easy doorkeeper and a pertinacious office seeker, who was a distant relative of the chief. Scarcely a week passed but the latter called, and the former was much too polite to shut him out.

The chief at last, after one of the usual interviews, resolved to stand the nuisance no longer, so, summoning the doorkeeper when the visitor had departed, he said, "X., do you know what that man comes after?"

"No, sir," replied the functionary.

"It has long been a matter of argument," said the old lawyer, who was in a reminiscent mood, "whether a lawyer should defend a man that he knows to be guilty. There is an argument on both sides, and I do not suppose it will ever be settled to the satisfaction of all.

"A good many years ago I had a case that set me to thinking, and I haven't yet determined what my duty was in the matter. At that time I had a small practice in a little town in the western part of the state. Upon my return to the town one day, after having been away a few days on a matter of business, I was called upon to defend a worthless character who had been arrested for hog stealing.

"At that time every one kept at least one hog to be killed in the fall and salted down for use in the winter. One of my neighbors had butchered a hog a few days before, and the party that I was called upon to defend had been charged with theft of it.

"The case was about to be called when I arrived, and I asked for a little time in which to consult with my client. This was granted, and taking him to one side I said:

"'Now, see here, the best thing that you can do is to make a clean breast of the affair to me, and then I will know just where I stand. Whatever you may confess to me I will treat as sacredly confidential, and I will do my best to clear you.'

"'I didn't steal his hog,' protested the prisoner.

"'Then where did you get the carcass that was found in your possession?' I demanded.

"'From your back porch, boss,' he answered with a grin.

"Then I remembered that just before going away I had left orders to have my hog killed, and I could only gasp. However, I went to work and cleared my client of the charge he was under and took the carcass of my own hog as payment for services rendered, but I had hard work treating what he told me as sacred and confidential."—Detroit Free Press.

Gout has been produced in hens by a Breslau doctor who fed them with meat. He gave the hens nothing but horseflesh without fat and as much water as they liked, with deplorable results to the unfortunate fowls. Having instilled the disease, he then undertook to drive out the uric acid by administering eggshell, which relieved the hens to a certain degree.

Upon my return to the town one day, after having been away a few days on a matter of business, I was called upon to defend a worthless character who had been arrested for hog stealing.

"At that time every one kept at least one hog to be killed in the fall and salted down for use in the winter. One of my neighbors had butchered a hog a few days before, and the party that I was called upon to defend had been charged with theft of it.

"The case was about to be called when I arrived, and I asked for a little time in which to consult with my client. This was granted, and taking him to one side I said:

"'Now, see here, the best thing that you can do is to make a clean breast of the affair to me, and then I will know just where I stand. Whatever you may confess to me I will treat as sacredly confidential, and I will do my best to clear you.'

"'I didn't steal his hog,' protested the prisoner.

"'Then where did you get the carcass that was found in your possession?' I demanded.

"'From your back porch, boss,' he answered with a grin.

"Then I remembered that just before going away I had left orders to have my hog killed, and I could only gasp. However, I went to work and cleared my client of the charge he was under and took the carcass of my own hog as payment for services rendered, but I had hard work treating what he told me as sacred and confidential."—Detroit Free Press.

Gout has been produced in hens by a Breslau doctor who fed them with meat. He gave the hens nothing but horseflesh without fat and as much water as they liked, with deplorable results to the unfortunate fowls. Having instilled the disease, he then undertook to drive out the uric acid by administering eggshell, which relieved the hens to a certain degree.

LONDON, March 27.—Military observers here and even those in close affiliation with the war office are considerably confused as to what is being done for the succor of Mafeking. Some five thousand or six thousand men are engaged with Lord Methuen at Warrenton and Fourteen Streams, and now another column is about leaving Kimberley, if it has not already started, for Griquatown, 106 miles westward. Its ostensible purpose is to drive out the Boers. The force is described as "a strong one," and the expedition as "likely to attract much attention."

General French is reported from Bloemfontein Sunday as returning from Thaba Nehu without apparently having headed off Commandant Olivier, with his 16 guns and miles of baggage.

Boer horsemen are in contact with the British outposts from Biggarsberg to Warrenton.

General Buller's patrols had a sharp skirmish Sunday at Washbank.

After visiting two or three European capitals, they will go to New York by way of Antwerp. It is understood at the Hague that they are invested with large powers, and are prepared to agree to anything looking to intervention.

The Times prints a statement from Cape Town to the effect that the Boers, after deducting heavy losses are probably unable now to put more than thirty thousand men on the fighting line.

FIRED INTO THE MOB.

Maryland Officers Overcome, and Negro Assailant of a Woman Lynched.

BELAIR, Md., March 27.—Lewis Harris, colored, who was arrested here for committing a felonious assault on Miss Anne McIlvaine, a recieuse, was lynched by a mob.

Sheriff Kinart and his deputy fought to protect their prisoner, and fired into the mob, wounding two of them. They were overpowered.

PORTUGAL NEEDS NO LOAN.

LONDON, March 27.—It is learned that Portugal is quite prepared to meet the Delagoa Bay award without borrowing money. Current reports that Great Britain intended lending the Portuguese government in exchange for privileges at Delagoa and Beira are declared to be absolutely incorrect. The British government received no intimation in regard to the award, and has no information of its terms or when they will be announced, though it hopes to receive this information during the current week.

The same condition of affairs in regard to the award prevails at the American embassy, where the securities of the claimants are deposited. On all sides it is said that the long delay in reaching a decision has had the most serious effect upon the principle of arbitration.

DOMINATED BY CRIMINALS.

Governor Steunenberg's Excuse For Opposing Labor Unions in Shoshone County, Idaho.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Governor Steunenberg's cross-examination continued in the Coeur d'Alene investigation before the house committee on military affairs. Representative Sulzer, of New York, inquired how the governor justified the continuance of martial law. The witness said there had been a continuous state of rebellion in the Coeur d'Alene district, and while it did not take on the form of armed resistance there was at all times opposition to the policy of the state authorities. Mr. Sulzer pressed for a specification of names and events in this disorder, but the governor said it was general in character, and specific outbreaks were not likely to occur while the authorities continued to act with firmness.

When asked if he had conferred with the Bunker Hill mine officials and others with a view to breaking up the labor organizations the governor said he had not. He added that in his judgment the lebor organizations in Shoshone county existed in name only, their real policy being "dominated by criminals." When asked to specify the so-called criminals the governor said he did not care to give names.

Governor Steunenberg was asked why he did not resort to the posse comitatus, calling on citizens to aid the sheriff in maintaining order. He said he did not believe the ordinary civil procedure was sufficient to deal with the situation.

Governor Steunenberg said that at present there were three troops of cavalry, about 200 men, in the Coeur d'Alene district. But on Dec. 1 last the troops were withdrawn from guard duty and went into garrison. Troops were no longer at the mines, and there was no stockade.

HULL EXPLAINED ARMY BILL.

In the House Cox and Ridgley Opposed Permaneut Increase.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The house entered upon the consideration of the army appropriation bill, but the debate was without exciting incident, being confined to the discussion of army matters. Chairman Hull, in charge of the bill, explained its provisions. Mr. Jett (Ill.) criticised the policy of rushing officers through the high grades of the army just prior to retirement.

Mr. Cox (Tenn.) and Mr. Ridgely (Kan.) opposed generally a permanent increase of the army as prejucial to the best interests of the country, and Mr. Meyer (La.) discussed the Philippine policy, opposing the retention of the islands.

INCENDIARY PLAY EXCITED FILIPINOS.

Police Restored Order, and Arrested the Author and Manager of Theater.

MANILA, March 27.—During the production of an incendiary play entitled "For Love of Country," presented in the Tagalo language, at the Tagalo theater, the natives, under the influence of repeated references to independence, became disorderly.

Finally, quite carried away by the sight of the rebel flag on the stage, they cried "Vive Filipinos" and "Vive Aguinaldo." The police, who were summoned, restored order and arrested the manager of the theater and the author of the play.

The latter is the proprietor of a Tagalo newspaper which was recently warned to moderate its radical utterances. The American authorities had forbidden the production of the play.

Cardinal Ledchouski has been mentioned as a possible successor of Pope Leo XIII.

THE BREACH YET OPEN

Republican Senators Failed to Agree.

HARMONY MAKERS DISCHARGED.

Definitely Decided to Press Present Porto Rican Bill—Tariffites Agreed to Amend Measure by Admitting United States Goods Into Porto Rico Free.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Republican members of the senate spent some time in caucus in an effort to reach an agreement upon the Porto Rican legislation now pending in the senate. This was apparently, however, without material result, the only accomplishment being a decision to proceed with the general bill as it now stands, without separating the tariff feature, and to discharge the harmony committee from further efforts.

Senator Foraker was instructed by the caucus to press the Porto Rican bill as it now stood, the governmental bill incorporated with the tariff measure, to as speedy a vote as possible. The understanding at the time this instruction was given was that Senator Foraker would offer an amendment to the tariff feature of the bill adding the free list named by the president in an executive order to the exports going from the United States to Porto Rico duty free, but that the 15 per cent of the Dingley law carried in the house upon goods coming from Porto Rico to the United States would be retained.

The vote by which this instruction was given was taken viva voce, no record being made, but it was evident that a substantial majority approved the proposition. Quite a number of senators had left the caucus before this vote was taken, but the position of each senator was understood.

There are a number of senators who will oppose the bill even with the amendment recommended. They are it is stated, Senators Davis, Beveridge, Hoar, Wellington, Mason, Simon, Proctor and Nelson. It is also said that Senators Kyle who, heretofore, has acted with the Republicans, and McCumber, of North Dakota, will not vote for the house bill unamended, but it is believed they will vote for the amended proposition.

Two senators named in the list of eight first given are claimed by friends of the tariff measure as almost sure to vote for the amended bill, leaving six Republicans who will vote finally against the measure.

It was claimed that two or three votes will be secured for the tariff measure from the ranks of the opposition parties in the senate and that in this way a majority will be secured.

While there has been a great deal of discussion among senators as to what the house will do when the amended bill is sent over there, and many conferences between the senators and members of the ways and means committee, the only result has been a decision that the senate must act as seems best under the circumstances, and the bill, if passed, must take its chances in the house.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF SURE.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—There will be no delay in the execution of the act of congress appropriating $2,000,000 for the relief of the residents of Porto Rico. The war department had anticipated the passage of the act, and had made arrangements to carry its provisions into effect at once.

A plan of action was agreed upon by General Davis, governor general of Porto Rico, and Secretary Root, while the latter was in Havana recently. It involves employment of native labor on public works in Porto Rico, and the distribution of rations to the sick and destitute who are unable to work. General Davis was given full discretion in the matter, and the sum of $1,000,000 was placed at his disposal.

Wanted to See the President.

The Washington Star says that a big, gawky country lad went to the White House the other day just as the president had gone out for a morning stroll.

"I wants ter see the president," he announced to the first man he met.

"Dern my time!" the young man ejaculated. "He walks just like any other man," and the fellow struck out so that he could get close enough to see the president well.

TRANS-ATLANTIC TRAVELERS

Furnished Special Attendants by the Pennsylvania System.

The bureau of attendants for trans-Atlantic travelers established in Jersey City and New York City twenty years ago by the Pennsylvania system, has proven a great convenience to persons making European trips and to tourists arriving in America at that port. It will be particularly convenient for visitors to the Paris exposition because the departure docks of most of the Atlantic steamship lines are convenient to the new Jersey City passenger station of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

This bureau consists of experienced agents whose duties are to meet passengers arriving in Jersey City and New York over the Pennsylvania lines and assist them in arranging for trans-Atlantic trips via any of the steamship lines by conducting them to steamships and aiding in preparations for a trip abroad.

These agents will provide cabs operated by the Pennsylvania system and aid passengers with their baggage. They are fully posted on matters pertaining to steamships leaving New York, and arrangements can be made through them for procuring steamship tickets in advance.

They also meet incoming steamships to aid travelers in shaping details for continuing journeys from New York over the Pennsylvania lines by furnishing tickets, arranging for the transfer of baggage from steamship docks after it has been passed by customs inspectors, and having the same checked through to destination. They will reserve sleeping car accommodations and relieve persons of the foregoing details, making themselves useful as attendants and guides free of charge.

Further information on the subject may be obtained by addressing the nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent, or C. L. Kimball, assistant general passenger agent, Cleveland, Ohio.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—The Republican members of the senate spent some time in caucus in an effort to reach an agreement upon the Porto Rican legislation now pending in the senate. This was apparently, however, without material result, the only accomplishment being a decision to proceed with the general bill as it now stands, without separating the tariff feature, and to discharge the harmony committee from further efforts.

Senator Foraker was instructed by the caucus to press the Porto Rican bill as it now stood, the governmental bill incorporated with the tariff measure, to as speedy a vote as possible. The understanding at the time this instruction was given was that Senator Foraker would offer an amendment to the tariff feature of the bill adding the free list named by the president in an executive order to the exports going from the United States to Porto Rico duty free, but that the 15 per cent of the Dingley law carried in the house upon goods coming from Porto Rico to the United States would be retained.

The vote by which this instruction was given was taken viva voce, no record being made, but it was evident that a substantial majority approved the proposition. Quite a number of senators had left the caucus before this vote was taken, but the position of each senator was understood.

There are a number of senators who will oppose the bill even with the amendment recommended. They are it is stated, Senators Davis, Beveridge, Hoar, Wellington, Mason, Simon, Proctor and Nelson. It is also said that Senators Kyle who, heretofore, has acted with the Republicans, and McCumber, of North Dakota, will not vote for the house bill unamended, but it is believed they will vote for the amended proposition.

Two senators named in the list of eight first given are claimed by friends of the tariff measure as almost sure to vote for the amended bill, leaving six Republicans who will vote finally against the measure.

It was claimed that two or three votes will be secured for the tariff measure from the ranks of the opposition parties in the senate and that in this way a majority will be secured.

While there has been a great deal of discussion among senators as to what the house will do when the amended bill is sent over there, and many conferences between the senators and members of the ways and means committee, the only result has been a decision that the senate must act as seems best under the circumstances, and the bill, if passed, must take its chances in the house.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF SURE.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—There will be no delay in the execution of the act of congress appropriating $2,000,000 for the relief of the residents of Porto Rico. The war department had anticipated the passage of the act, and had made arrangements to carry its provisions into effect at once.

A plan of action was agreed upon by General Davis, governor general of Porto Rico, and Secretary Root, while the latter was in Havana recently. It involves employment of native labor on public works in Porto Rico, and the distribution of rations to the sick and destitute who are unable to work. General Davis was given full discretion in the matter, and the sum of $1,000,000 was placed at his disposal.

Wanted to See the President.

The Washington Star says that a big, gawky country lad went to the White House the other day just as the president had gone out for a morning stroll.

"I wants ter see the president," he announced to the first man he met.

"Dern my time," the young man ejaculated. "He walks just like any other man," and the fellow struck out so that he could get close enough to see the president well.

TRANS-ATLANTIC TRAVELERS

Furnished Special Attendants by the Pennsylvania System.

The bureau of attendants for trans-Atlantic travelers established in Jersey City and New York City twenty years ago by the Pennsylvania system, has proven a great convenience to persons making European trips and to tourists arriving in America at that port. It will be particularly convenient for visitors to the Paris exposition because the departure docks of most of the Atlantic steamship lines are convenient to the new Jersey City passenger station of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

This bureau consists of experienced agents whose duties are to meet passengers arriving in Jersey City and New York over the Pennsylvania lines and assist them in arranging for trans-Atlantic trips via any of the steamship lines by conducting them to steamships and aiding in preparations for a trip abroad.

These agents will provide cabs operated by the Pennsylvania system and aid passengers with their baggage. They are fully posted on matters pertaining to steamships leaving New York, and arrangements can be made through them for procuring steamship tickets in advance.

They also meet incoming steamships to aid travelers in shaping details for continuing journeys from New York over the Pennsylvania lines by furnishing tickets, arranging for the transfer of baggage from steamship docks after it has been passed by customs inspectors, and having the same checked through to destination. They will reserve sleeping car accommodations and relieve persons of the foregoing details, making themselves useful as attendants and guides free of charge.

Further information on the subject may be obtained by addressing the nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent, or C. L. Kimball, assistant general passenger agent, Cleveland, Ohio.

WILL BAR THE PUBLIC

Judge Fears Excitement at Trial, at Frankfort, Ky.

ATTORNEYS CAME NEAR FIGHTING.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 27.—Judge Moore, before whom the trial of Secretary of State Powers is proceeding, will issue an order the effect of which will be to bar everybody from the courtroom except the attorneys, court officers and newspaper men. This action is taken on account of the high tension of public excitement, which resulted in the wild stampede in the courthouse during the Campbell-Denny colloquy.

"It is perfectly lawful for people to come here, and to come armed. I came here several times myself."

He was referring to the crowd that was present at the mass meeting held in the state house yard just prior to Governor Goebel's assassination

Colonel Campbell, for the prosecution, replied that he did not consider it lawful and was surprised to know that Mr. Denny had come here armed. Denny denied having made such a statement, and said that he did not come armed. Campbell insisted that he had made the statement. Both men were very excited and spoke with vehemence, and with arms shaking commenced to advance toward each other. The courtroom was crowded and the audience evidently thought a fight was on and made a mad rush for the doors and windows, people falling over each other in their efforts to get out of the room. Several policemen and deputy sheriffs were crying for order, and Judge Moore was bringing his gavel down with terrific force and urging the people to take their seats. After five or ten minutes of the most exciting scenes witnessed since the assassination quiet was restored.

They finally apologized to each other.

On inspection of the record it was found that Colonel Campbell had misconstrued Colonel Denny's statement.

Governor Brown, in a speech, asked the court to adjourn and give the people time to cool off, stating that it was only by the coolness of several officers and people around him that dozens of people were not killed. He further said that it was not that he feared violence, but he only spoke for the protection of his clients.

County Attorney Polsgrove objected to adjourning, stating that it would be an admission that the court was unable to protect the prisoner and insisted upon resuming the questioning of Golden.

Ex-Governor Brown interrogated Golden. He said he learned about two weeks ago that he would be arrested if he did not tell what he knew about the assassination and that if he did tell the attorneys for the commonwealth would try and save him fron prosecution.

Golden said he told Judge Fleming, of Winchester, that he intended to tell all he knew about the affair. While he was in Winchester he said he was stopped by two men, Dr. Foster and William Steele, who grabbed him by the arms and cursed him for exposing the Republican party. Golden replied that he had not exposed the party.

Governor Brown asked him if he had not told the two men that he knew nothing about the affair. Golden said that he might have told them that, as he would have said anything they wanted him to. Governor Brown asked him if he made a habit of saying anything a person desired, to which the witness responded:

DASHED DOWN MOUNTAIN.

Street Car Ran Away Near Bradford, Pa. One Person Killed — Others Received Injuries.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 27.—One of the large passenger cars of the Olean, Rock City and Bradford Electric railway ran away down the mountain side beyond Red Rock, about six miles east of this place, and was derailed and wrecked.

HANNA VERY INDIGNANT.

In Senate In Strong Language He Denounces a Story Told About Him.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Senator Foraker, in charge of the Porto Rican bill, announced in the senate that, beginning with today's session he would press the measure to a vote as soon as possible. Senator Hanna, chairman of the Republican national committee, speaking to a question of personal privilege, vigorously denied an interview with a Republican member of the house of representatives whose name was not given, published in a Washington newspaper alleging that the passage of the Porto Rican tariff bill would be in pursuance of a "deal," by which the Republican national committee was to get a big contribution.

Mr. Hanna denounced the statement as a "malicious lie," and hoped it would be investigated. The Alaskan civil code bill was under consideration during the greater part of the session. An amendment was agreed to, fixing a license upon almost every kind of trade and commerce in the district of Alaska, the licenses ranging from $10 to $500 per annum. The measure had not been disposed of at the conclusion of the session.

Assaulted His Wife and Suicided.

Owosso, Mich., March 27.—Charles Scott, a boiler maker employed in the Ann Arbor railroad car shops, broke into the home of his wife, from whom he had been separated, and furiously assaulted Mrs. Scott and her mother with a heavy chisel. He then drew a revolver and shot himself dead. Mrs. Scott is fatally, and her mother, Mrs. Letitia Ferguson, seriously injured,

Herr Von Puttkamer Dead.

BERLIN, March 27.—Herr Von Puttkamer, ex-vice president of the Prussian ministry and brother-in-law of Prince Bismarck, is dead, at Varzin, aged 71 years. He recently resigned as governor of Pomerania.

Voluntary Advance to Miners.

ALTOONA, Pa., March 27.—The Altoona Coal and Coke company, the Henrietta Coal Mining company, and the Frugality Coal and Coke company, all of this city, notified their miners of a voluntary general advance in wages of twenty per cent, to take effect April 1. Five thousand miners will benefit by the advance.

Ex-Governor Stone Dead.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss., March 27.—Hon. J. M. Stone, a former governor of Mississippi, died after a short illness of erysipelas.

Colonists to Have Commissions.

LONDON, March 27.—In the course of a reply to a question on the subject in the house of commons the parliamentary secretary of the war office, Mr. Wyndham, announced that it was proposed to give a total of 276 commissions in the army to the colonies, and 50 to Lord Roberts for distribution to the forces in the field.

Steyn Opposed to Fleeing.

LONDON, March 27.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Morning Post said: "I learn that Mr. Steyn fled against his own judgment, and on the persuasion of Mr. Fischer that his duty to his country required that he should remain uncaptured as long as resistance was possible."

For New Connecting Road.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia—Partly cloudy today, probably snow or rain near the lakes. Wednesday fair; fresh westerly winds, becoming variable.

London Bought Heavily—B. & O. Common Rose—Bond Market Continued Broad and Active.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The stock market made a remarkable demonstation of strength in the prices of securities and of absorptive power in the face of the enormous liquidation of profits Monday. It was estimated that London bought fully 60,000 shares on balances, principally among the low-priced common stocks with preferred stocks ahead of them. The commission houses had large orders to buy which accumulated over Sunday, and the professionals took advantage of this demand to market their holdings. This, coupled with the weakness of the local traction stocks, Sugar and People's Gas, turned prices back before the end of the first hour, but the buying continued unabated in volume and carried the market upward again. Later in the day, when the buying orders had been executed and realizing developed in the trunk lines, the market went off again. The final rally did not bring prices back to the best, but it made the closing firm.

Baltimore and Ohio common rose an extreme 5¾ and at one time crossed the preferred. There was very heavy realizing in the other trunk lines under cover of the rise in Baltimore and Ohio. Special strength and activity was shown by a number of the low priced southern and southwesterns, the Pacifics, some of the coalers, both anthracite and bituminous.

All departments of the local money market were appreciably easier Monday in spite of the largely increased speculative activity and the resulting demand for funds. In spite of the large buying of stocks for London sterling exchange advanced a fraction, apparently in response to the hardening of money rates in London.

The bond market continued broad and active and higher prices were made for most bonds traded in. Total sales, par value, $4,810,000.

United States 3s, coupons, advanced ½, do registered ¼ and the refunding 2s when issued declined ½ in the bid price.

WILL BAR THE PUBLIC

Judge Fears Excitement at Trial, at Frankfort, Ky.

ATTORNEYS CAME NEAR FIGHTING.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 27.—Judge Moore, before whom the trial of Secretary of State Powers is proceeding, will issue an order the effect of which will be to bar everybody from the courtroom except the attorneys, court officers and newspaper men. This action is taken on account of the high tension of public excitement, which resulted in the wild stampede in the courthouse during the Campbell-Denny colloquy.

"It is perfectly lawful for people to come here, and to come armed. I came here several times myself."

He was referring to the crowd that was present at the mass meeting held in the state house yard just prior to Governor Goebel's assassination

Colonel Campbell, for the prosecution, replied that he did not consider it lawful and was surprised to know that Mr. Denny had come here armed. Denny denied having made such a statement, and said that he did not come armed. Campbell insisted that he had made the statement. Both men were very excited and spoke with vehemence, and with arms shaking commenced to advance toward each other. The courtroom was crowded and the audience evidently thought a fight was on and made a mad rush for the doors and windows, people falling over each other in their efforts to get out of the room. Several policemen and deputy sheriffs were crying for order, and Judge Moore was bringing his gavel down with terrific force and urging the people to take their seats. After five or ten minutes of the most exciting scenes witnessed since the assassination quiet was restored.

They finally apologized to each other.

On inspection of the record it was found that Colonel Campbell had misconstrued Colonel Denny's statement.

Governor Brown, in a speech, asked the court to adjourn and give the people time to cool off, stating that it was only by the coolness of several officers and people around him that dozens of people were not killed. He further said that it was not that he feared violence, but he only spoke for the protection of his clients.

County Attorney Polsgrove objected to adjourning, stating that it would be an admission that the court was unable to protect the prisoner and insisted upon resuming the questioning of Golden.

Ex-Governor Brown interrogated Golden. He said he learned about two weeks ago that he would be arrested if he did not tell what he knew about the assassination and that if he did tell the attorneys for the commonwealth would try and save him fron prosecution.

Golden said he told Judge Fleming, of Winchester, that he intended to tell all he knew about the affair. While he was in Winchester he said he was stopped by two men, Dr. Foster and William Steele, who grabbed him by the arms and cursed him for exposing the Republican party. Golden replied that he had not exposed the party.

Governor Brown asked him if he had not told the two men that he knew nothing about the affair. Golden said that he might have told them that, as he would have said anything they wanted him to. Governor Brown asked him if he made a habit of saying anything a person desired, to which the witness responded:

DASHED DOWN MOUNTAIN.

Street Car Ran Away Near Bradford, Pa. One Person Killed — Others Received Injuries.

BRADFORD, Pa., March 27.—One of the large passenger cars of the Olean, Rock City and Bradford Electric railway ran away down the mountain side beyond Red Rock, about six miles east of this place, and was derailed and wrecked.

HANNA VERY INDIGNANT.

In Senate In Strong Language He Denounces a Story Told About Him.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Senator Foraker, in charge of the Porto Rican bill, announced in the senate that, beginning with today's session he would press the measure to a vote as soon as possible. Senator Hanna, chairman of the Republican national committee, speaking to a question of personal privilege, vigorously denied an interview with a Republican member of the house of representatives whose name was not given, published in a Washington newspaper alleging that the passage of the Porto Rican tariff bill would be in pursuance of a "deal," by which the Republican national committee was to get a big contribution.

Mr. Hanna denounced the statement as a "malicious lie," and hoped it would be investigated. The Alaskan civil code bill was under consideration during the greater part of the session. An amendment was agreed to, fixing a license upon almost every kind of trade and commerce in the district of Alaska, the licenses ranging from $10 to $500 per annum. The measure had not been disposed of at the conclusion of the session.

Assaulted His Wife and Suicided.

Owosso, Mich., March 27.—Charles Scott, a boiler maker employed in the Ann Arbor railroad car shops, broke into the home of his wife, from whom he had been separated, and furiously assaulted Mrs. Scott and her mother with a heavy chisel. He then drew a revolver and shot himself dead. Mrs. Scott is fatally, and her mother, Mrs. Letitia Ferguson, seriously injured,

Herr Von Puttkamer Dead.

BERLIN, March 27.—Herr Von Puttkamer, ex-vice president of the Prussian ministry and brother-in-law of Prince Bismarck, is dead, at Varzin, aged 71 years. He recently resigned as governor of Pomerania.

Voluntary Advance to Miners.

ALTOONA, Pa., March 27.—The Altoona Coal and Coke company, the Henrietta Coal Mining company, and the Frugality Coal and Coke company, all of this city, notified their miners of a voluntary general advance in wages of twenty per cent, to take effect April 1. Five thousand miners will benefit by the advance.

Ex-Governor Stone Dead.

HOLLY SPRINGS, Miss., March 27.—Hon. J. M. Stone, a former governor of Mississippi, died after a short illness of erysipelas.

Colonists to Have Commissions.

LONDON, March 27.—In the course of a reply to a question on the subject in the house of commons the parliamentary secretary of the war office, Mr. Wyndham, announced that it was proposed to give a total of 275 commissions in the army to the colonies, and 50 to Lord Roberts for distribution to the forces in the field.

Steyn Opposed to Fleeing.

LONDON, March 27.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Morning Post said: "I learn that Mr. Steyn fled against his own judgment, and on the persuasion of Mr. Fischer that his duty to his country required that he should remain uncaptured as long as resistance was possible."

For New Connecting Road.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia—Partly cloudy today, probably snow or rain near the lakes. Wednesday fair; fresh westerly winds, becoming variable.

London Bought Heavily—B. & O. Common Rose—Bond Market Continued Broad and Active.

NEW YORK, March 27.—The stock market made a remarkable demonstation of strength in the prices of securities and of absorptive power in the face of the enormous liquidation of profits Monday. It was estimated that London bought fully 60,000 shares on balances, principally among the low-priced common stocks with preferred stocks ahead of them. The commission houses had large orders to buy which accumulated over Sunday, and the professionals took advantage of this demand to market their holdings. This, coupled with the weakness of the local traction stocks, Sugar and People's Gas, turned prices back before the end of the first hour, but the buying continued unabated in volume and carried the market upward again. Later in the day, when the buying orders had been executed and realizing developed in the trunk lines, the market went off again. The final rally did not bring prices back to the best, but it made the closing firm.

Baltimore and Ohio common rose an extreme 5¾ and at one time crossed the preferred. There was very heavy realizing in the other trunk lines under cover of the rise in Baltimore and Ohio. Special strength and activity was shown by a number of the low priced southern and southwesterns, the Pacifics, some of the coalers, both anthracite and bituminous.

All departments of the local money market were appreciably easier Monday in spite of the largely increased speculative activity and the resulting demand for funds. In spite of the large buying of stocks for London sterling exchange advanced a fraction, apparently in response to the hardening of money rates in London.

The bond market continued broad and active and higher prices were made for most bonds traded in. Total sales, par value, $4,810,000.

United States 3s, coupons, advanced ½, do registered ¼ and the refunding 2s when issued declined ½ in the bid price.

FREE TRADE BILL FOR PORTO RICO.

Senator Davis Introduces One That Provides for Internal Revenue Features.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Senator Davis, of Minnesota, introduced a substitute for the Porto Ricon bill which provides for free trade between the United States and Porto Rico and extends the internal revenue laws, with amendments, over the island. The act is declared provisional and shall not continue longer than March 1, 1902.

Having produced an egg from a previously empty bag, he announced that he would follow up this trick by bringing from the bag the hen by which the egg had been laid. This little arrangement he had left to his confederate to carry out.

He proceeded to draw the bird from the bag in which it had previously been placed, but what was his consternation on finding that the alleged hen was an old rooster, which strutted about the stage with ruffled feathers and offended dignity and set up as vigorous a crowing as if he had just awakened from his nocturnal slumbers.

Not Forgotten.

"Did your grandmother remember you in her will?"

"Yes; she had a clause in it instructing the executors to collect all the loans she had made me."

Two Answers.

Not long ago a Boston clergyman received an evening call from an elderly man and woman who expressed a wish to be joined in the bonds of matrimony then and there.

"Have you ever been married before?" asked the clergyman of the man, an honest eyed, weather beaten person of seafaring aspect.

"Never, and never wanted to be before," was the prompt reply.

"And have you ever been married before?" the question came to the woman.

"No, sir," she replied with equal promptness, and with a touch of humor that appealed to the clergyman at once she added, "I never had a chance!"

The marriage ceremony was speedily performed, and the clergyman refused to take any fee, telling the bride with a twinkle in his eye that it had been a privilege to officiate which he would have been sorry to miss.—Youth's Companion.

Not a Bride.

"You say," pursued the chairman of the legislative investigating committee, "that he resorted to no bribery whatever during the campaign, so far as you know?"

"Yes, sir," replied the witness; "that is what I said."

"Did he not circulate several boxes of cigars?"

"Yes, sir, but them cigars wasn't bribes. Here's one of 'em. You can try it."—Chicago Tribune.

FREE TRADE BILL FOR PORTO RICO.

Senator Davis Introduces One That Provides for Internal Revenue Features.

WASHINGTON, March 27.—Senator Davis, of Minnesota, introduced a substitute for the Porto Ricon bill which provides for free trade between the United States and Porto Rico and extends the internal revenue laws, with amendments, over the island. The act is declared provisional and shall not continue longer than March 1, 1902.

Having produced an egg from a previously empty bag, he announced that he would follow up this trick by bringing from the bag the hen by which the egg had been laid. This little arrangement he had left to his confederate to carry out.

He proceeded to draw the bird from the bag in which it had previously been placed, but what was his consternation on finding that the alleged hen was an old rooster, which strutted about the stage with ruffled feathers and offended dignity and set up as vigorous a crowing as if he had just awakened from his nocturnal slumbers.

Not Forgotten.

"Did your grandmother remember you in her will?"

"Yes; she had a clause in it instructing the executors to collect all the loans she had made me."

Two Answers.

Not long ago a Boston clergyman received an evening call from an elderly man and woman who expressed a wish to be joined in the bonds of matrimony then and there.

"Have you ever been married before?" asked the clergyman of the man, an honest eyed, weather beaten person of seafaring aspect.

"Never, and never wanted to be before," was the prompt reply.

"And have you ever been married before?" the question came to the woman.

"No, sir," she replied with equal promptness, and with a touch of humor that appealed to the clergyman at once she added, "I never had a chance!"

The marriage ceremony was speedily performed, and the clergyman refused to take any fee, telling the bride with a twinkle in his eye that it had been a privilege to officiate which he would have been sorry to miss.—Youth's Companion.

Not a Bride.

"You say," pursued the chairman of the legislative investigating committee, "that he resorted to no bribery whatever during the campaign, so far as you know?"

"Yes, sir," replied the witness; "that is what I said."

"Did he not circulate several boxes of cigars?"

"Yes, sir, but them cigars wasn't bribes. Here's one of 'em. You can try it."—Chicago Tribune.
